Terms Reduce Austria's Army to 15,000 Men and Call for Surrender of All Warships

OUTLINE OF THE AUSTRIAN TERMS

Big Four Considers Economic Clauses—Treaty To Be Presented Wednesday

Austria Entirely Crushed—Much Work Still For Peacemakers

PARIS, May 24.—The Council of Four today continued its consideration of the economic clauses of the Austrian peace treaty, calling in experts for consultation. It is still expected that the treaty will be ready for presentation to the Austrians on Wednesday next.

The Council of Four yesterday considered the military terms as framed by Marshal Foch, Gen. Diaz and other military leaders. Austria's army of over a million men, which was second only to that of Germany, is reduced by the treaty to 15,000 men; virtually all military supplies would be surrendered or destroyed and further military production abolished.

The naval terms are similarly sweeping, all warships being surrendered and Austria's position as a naval power terminated.

The American delegation has prepared a memorandum showing the status of affairs before the peace conference on the conclusion of the Austrian treaty.

This discloses that a formidable amount of business is still to be transacted, besides the Turkish and Bulgarian treaties, covering the whole range of inter-allied subjects. The memorandum runs through many pages with scores of headings. It leaves no doubt that the conference will continue for a considerable time after the treaties have been signed and President Wilson has left. It is expected that the other American members will remain to consider matters still requiring attention.

TWO SUBMARINES AND DESTROYER LAUNCHED

QUINCY, May 24.—Two submarines and a destroyer were launched here today, the submarines at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and the destroyer at the Victory plant at Squantum.

The destroyer was christened the Meade for the late Rear Admiral Richard W. Meade, his daughter, Miss Annie Pauline Meade, acting as sponsor. It had been planned to have the vessel christened by the widow, but because of her age, she was not able to be present. Admiral Meade was the son of Captain Richard W. Meade, who served in the navy in the days of wooden ships.

The submarines sent overboard were the R-9 and the AA-3, the latter one of the biggest craft of the kind. She is a sister ship of the AA-1, built two years ago as an experimental vessel. It is 300 feet long and has a wide cruising radius. She is expected to develop a surface speed of upwards of 16 knots and to make 13 knots submerged. Several new features have been added to the submersible, one important feature being a ramming device. The R-9 was christened by Mrs. Mary Ingalls Stowe, wife of Dr. I. E. Stowe, a naval lieutenant on duty at the shipyard, and the AA-3 by Mrs. Lillian T. Jordan, wife of Commander John T. Jordan, in charge of the cast inspection department at the yard. Both were constructed under the direction of the Electric Boat Co., whose plant is within the Fore River yards.

The anti-Japanese boycott is spreading, particularly in Shanghai. Japanese authorities have lodged a protest against the use of the term "enemy goods" with relation to Japanese goods.

HUN CHIEF BACK

AT VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES, May 24.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and the other members of the German peace delegation, who went to Spa Thursday, returned here today with the exception of Dr. Theodor Melchior, the financial expert. All members of the party were smiling.

Conferred at Spa

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, and his colleagues, conferred yesterday at Spa with Philipp Scheidemann, Matthias Erzberger, Bernhard Dernburg and Count von Bernstorff. In the evening Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau left for Versailles and the members of the government started for Berlin.

Newspapers here unanimously approve of the "fairness, justice and precision" of the reply of the peace conference to the notes of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau. In the reply relative to economic questions they see the "resolute determination of the Entente to obtain all desirable reparations."

NEW RULE ON

RE-ENLISTMENTS

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A requirement that men enlisted in the regular army prior to April 2, 1917, could re-enlist only for three year term, was revoked today by the war department. These men, however, now may be re-enlisted for one or three years at the option of the applicant. Orders will be issued also annulling the requirement that seven-year men serve their full time in the reserve, and authorizing their immediate re-enlistment for a new three-year period after they have completed one such period in active service.

To Every Citizen of Lowell:

Have you done your part in assisting the drive of the Salvation Army?

Do not wait to meet a solicitor. He or she may miss you.

The campaign is more than half over and less than $15,000 has been reported. Lowell's quota is $33,000. We need your help and support. Give it now and generously. Surely the cause is one that must appeal to every real American as worthy of support.

Kindly see to it that we may report your subscription by Monday night.

PAY! DOLLARS FOR DOUGHNUTS

This Is Tag and Doughnut Day For the Salvation Army

Drive Must Take a Big Spurt To Reach Quota Required in Lowell

It's doughnut day today. Bright and early this morning the lassies of the Lowell Salvation Army appeared on the streets, each with a basket of doughnuts—plain ordinary doughnuts, crisp and browned, such doughnuts as won immortal fame for the Salvation Army overseas.

And 200 more bright eyed, rosy cheeked young women also appeared on the streets just as early, each with a supply of "doughnut" tags, and those who refused to help the Sally drive by allowing themselves to be decorated with the insignia of the "angel lassies," or fed with the luscious doughnuts which brought peace, happiness and content to the weary Yankee doughboy returning from the trenches, were few and far between.

The humble doughnut, humble no longer since it carved its niche in the hall of memories of the boys who fought and won was also on sale throughout the day at Pollard's store and the Gas Appliance shop across the way, where the angel lassies industriously fried and served their brown coated wares to all comers who were willing to pay the price, any sum from a quarter to $1000.

Tonight is the night of the parade, and all the boys from over there will add their numerous brassards, stripes and other insignia of service as an artistic reminder of the Sally doughnut. Continued to Page 1—Second Section

60 PER CENT DEMOBILIZED

2,215,161 Officers and Men Discharged From Service Since November 11

All But Regulars Will Be Out of France by June 12, Says Gen. March

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Revised plans for the return of the overseas forces provide for the sailing from France of all troops except those in the regular divisions by June 12, General March announced today.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Demobilization of the army has now returned more than 60 per cent of officers and men to civil life. It was announced today officially. The total, including partial reports to date, was given as 2,215,161, of whom 112,556 were officers. Sailings from overseas since November 11 last have totaled 1,152,427.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Men who were called in the draft and failed for any reason to respond and who were restored to duty upon rejoining to a camp as "men willing to serve" will have refunded to them the money deducted from their pay to reimburse the government for the rewards paid for their apprehension. Inquiries should be sent to the director of finance.

RESUME HEARING IN PLUMBERS' CASE

The case of Finlay Chisholm, Chisholm & Co., plumbers, against the Plumbers' union and Building Trades council, named as co-defendants, will be resumed before Jas. P. Owens, sitting as master, next Monday morning at the court house in Gorham street. Quia, Howard & Rogers represent the plaintiff, and Daniel J. Donahue and Edward P. Tierney, the defendants. The case was heard for one day before Mr. Owens during the early part of May, but was temporarily halted while counsel for the plaintiff went before Judge Chase and asked for a temporary injunction against the Building Trades council. This was refused and the case ordered continued before a master. The plaintiff files a petition against the defendants to restrain them from certain acts which, it is alleged, were in violation of the labor laws.

OLD LOWELL NATIONAL BANK

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC

We are pleased to announce that we have been assured by the architect that our new bank building will be ready for occupancy January 1st next.

The main banking room will be two stories high, and will contain a mezzanine in the rear, the floor will be of white Tennessee marble, and the counters of Sienna Italian marble.

The main floor will contain four tellers' cages in the Commercial Department, four windows in the Savings Department, officers' quarters, ladies' waiting room, and customers' desk.

A safe deposit department, complete in every detail, will be located in the basement, entrance being from a wide and easy marble staircase. A large electrically protected safe deposit vault, with thousands of compartments, drawers, and lockers, is being erected, and will be ready for use as soon as the building is completed.

The lighting arrangement for the main banking room will be from windows front and rear, extending the entire two stories.

It is the purpose of the Directors to have the building constructed as far as is possible by local contractors, and when present plans are carried out, Lowell will have one of the finest bank buildings north of Boston.

PERSISTENT DEMAND FOR CITY TAX BOOK

Despite the fact that a city ordinance provides for the publishing of a tax book at least once every two years, the city government has had only one book published since 1911. There is a persistent demand not only in city hall circles, but among citizens generally, for the publication of the book this year. Real estate men are especially anxious to have the latest information regarding real estate values and the book would be of special interest at the present time owing to the prevalent discussion over the site for the memorial auditorium.

The ordinance providing for the publishing of a tax book every two years was enacted in 1907. That year the book was published, again in 1909 and also in 1911. In 1913 it was not published, but in 1915 it was, and this was the last time. It should have been published in 1917 and again this year, but so far there has been nothing doing.

So insistent has the demand come that affairs have reached a point where the board of trade has called the attention of the city council to the fact that it isn't living up to the law. Last Tuesday Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the board of trade appeared before the council and asked that the books be published. No action was taken on his plea. The cost of publishing the books is $1500. Commissioner Donnelly of the finance department asked early in the year when the appropriation budget was being made up that provision be made for this work, but his request was not carried out.

LOWELL'S VICTORY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS

Lowell, exclusive of surrounding towns, subscribed a total of $5,531,109 to the Victory Liberty loan between the dates of April 19 and May 10. This is the sum found credited to Lowell at the Federal Reserve bank and is official. In amount it ranks third in the five loan drives in the city, the biggest outpouring of dollars coming on the Fighting Fourth drive, when Lowell people subscribed for $5,200,000 worth of bonds. It is $500,000 less than the second, a million and a fifth more than the third and one and three-quarter millions more than the first.

The city's quota in the fifth and last campaign was $5,275,000, so it is apparent that there was a safe over-subscription to the loan as far as Lowell was concerned. The number of subscriptions is placed at close to 9000, although it is difficult to give an exact total owing to the method of placing a single subscription at a bank although it may represent a large group of subscribers. This was done in the case of several groups of mill employees.

100 SURVIVORS ARE LANDED

Old Bay State Liner From Norfolk to Baltimore, With 156 Aboard, Destroyed

Early Reports Indicate 10 Lost—Survivors Unable To Give Details of Disaster

BALTIMORE, Md., May 24.—Ten persons are believed to have perished on the Old Bay liner Virginia, bound to Norfolk from Baltimore with 156 passengers and freight, which was burned to the water's edge near the mouth of the Potomac river last night.

Officials of the steamship company could give no definite figures until the passenger list is compared with the names of the survivors. This will be a work of some little time, as passengers and members of the crew were picked up by at least four other steamers and taken to Norfolk and Baltimore.

Lieut. Commander George V. Dawes, U.S.N., a passenger on the Florida, one of the rescuing ships, said he believed that from 10 to 15 persons perished. The fire started in the freight hold.

The Virginia sailed from Baltimore for Norfolk last evening with between 150 and 160 passengers and miscellaneous freight. The steamer was valued at $700,000.

The City of Baltimore arrived today with 100 passengers of the Virginia and the Florida brought other passengers and members of the crew. Capt. W. G. Lane of the Virginia, was aboard the Florida. The City of Annapolis brought four passengers it had picked up in a lifeboat.

Three Firemen Perished

NORFOLK, Va., May 24.—Three negro firemen are known to have perished when the steamer Virginia burned to the water's edge in Chesapeake Bay early this morning. More than 100 survivors were brought to Norfolk today on the steamer City of Norfolk, and the remainder were taken to Washington.

The survivors could hardly give a coherent account of the disaster. Most of them were asleep when the fire was discovered.

Survivors Landed

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 24.—Fifteen survivors were landed at Old Point Comfort from the steamer City of Norfolk. They were of the opinion that one man was left on the ship when all the lifeboats had pulled away.

ALLIED AIRPLANES OUTNUMBERED HUNS 2 TO 1

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Airplane strength of the allied armies on the west front when the armistice was signed was greater than that of the Germans by more than 2 to 1, and the Italian machines outnumbered Austria by 4 to 3, according to official reports to the war department.

Of the airplanes in service British units had 1758, French 3321, American 740 and Belgian 153.

TO HONOR SERVICE MEN GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD

Mathew Temperance Institute Will Welcome Members Who Served in War

On Tuesday evening, June 3, the Mathew Temperance Institute will honor its members who served our nation during the world war. Nearly sixty names are inscribed on the society's roll of honor, and now that most of these young soldiers and sailors have returned to civilian life, their fellow members have decided to delay no longer the welcome which they so richly deserve and have fixed upon a banquet and ball as the most suitable form of entertainment. On this occasion the society will also entertain former soldiers and sailors who have become identified with the institute since their discharge from the service and the soloists and young ladies of the chorus who took part in the Irish concert on March 16.

The banquet will begin promptly at 6:30 p. m. at Mathew hall and many prominent speakers and entertainers will take part in the post-prandial exercises. Dancing will start at 8:30 to the music of Broderick's orchestra. The banquet will be served by Caterer M. A. Lydon.

The committee on arrangements is as follows: P. Frank Kelly, chairman; Thomas J. Tighe, secretary; Thomas J. Durkin, treasurer; Arthur M. Flaherty, George W. Bowers, J. Frank Sullivan, Patrick M. Nestor, Patrick Kane, John W. Sharkey, George Lyons, John J. Townsend and Bernard H. Rourke.

Layton Hamner of Chicago, recently sent to Dr. C. P. Henry of Georgetown, Ky., a letter saying that he was a patient of the physician, 47 years ago, when he was a boy, that his widowed mother had paid all of the bill at the time excepting $7; that with interest computed at 5 per cent for 17 years he figured that the debt now amounts to $2275, and so enclosed check for that amount. "I am a Methodist," wrote Hamner, "and could not face my Maker if I had it on my conscience that I not alone owed my money, but really my life."

LITTLE GIRL KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Pearl Paquette, aged 4 years, daughter of Joseph and Molly (Hess) Paquette of 205 White street, was run over by an automobile near her home shortly before 7 o'clock last evening and died on the way to the hospital. The body was viewed later by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith, who stated that death might have resulted from the crushing of the chest, caused probably by the front wheel of the machine.

The machine is owned and was operated by Louis A. Olney of 118 Riverside street, teacher of chemistry at the Lowell Textile school and in the car with him were Mr. Hadden and Mr. Mandell, two students at the school. In reporting the accident to the police Mr. Olney claimed that he turned into White street at a rate of about 10 miles an hour and that the child, who was on the sidewalk, ran into the middle of the street and remained there until the car was abreast of her. She then ran directly in front of the machine and was thrown under the wheels before the car could be brought to a stop. The child was placed in the automobile and a hurried trip was made to the Lowell General hospital, but when the institution was reached the little girl had breathed her last.

The official report of the accident says that the car "was being driven rapidly."

Marie Duffy, whose home is at 323 Lawrence street, Lowell, was the only one of the four admitted to the hospital. She received lacerations of the scalp and a possible fracture of the skull.

THE ailments, annoyances and sufferings which are such a burden to women from early youth until old age, are mostly due to Anaemia. IT is Anaemia which brings on Headaches, Backaches, Buzzing in the Ears, Fatigue, Loss of Breath at the least exertion, Palpitations, Brain Fog, Sleeplessness, Nervousness.

IT is Anaemia which causes the numerous disturbances which are peculiar to women only; white lips, gums and eyelids; pale and sallow complexion; fickle appetite; the tendency to melancholy and loss of energy.

IT is Anaemia that makes them victims of Neurasthenia, and the many ailments which often accompany "Change of Life."

THERE is one infallible remedy for Anaemia—RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. They are a sure protection against Anaemia. They are the most effective means of overcoming Anaemia.

RED PILLS give a thorough treatment in blood-building, and give to the pale and weak woman the help she needs to win back health and strength.

IF you have any of the troubles mentioned above, NOW—TODAY—is the time to begin taking RED PILLS. Take them regularly every day and they will soon show you that they are the right medicine for you for Anaemia.

MRS. HENRI LAFLEUR, 27 Hamilton Street, Holyoke, Mass., says: "Before my marriage, and during the first years after my marriage, I was weak and debilitated and suffered greatly from all the symptoms which usually accompany Anaemia in women. A poor appetite, bad digestion, constant headaches, loss of energy, palpitations of the heart at the least effort, to such an extent that it was hard for me to move about the house. I went from one physician to another until a good old lady friend of mine advised me to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women."

I took them for years; they helped me; they gave me strength, they cured me. They not only cured me of my different ailments, but they also helped me to give birth to perfectly healthy children. I never was without RED PILLS during all the time I raised my family, and this means a great many years. I have not used RED PILLS alone to cure me, but I keep them in the house, as a household necessity, and once in a while, I take them, and never without good results."

CAUTION:—The formula of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women was first discovered in Paris, in the year of 1870, by a famous French specialist.

They have been largely used in France by French women ever since. American women are now using them with gratifying results for the treatment of Anaemia and general debility. READERS BANK DIVIDEND FIGHT FOR BEER

Some Time Will Elnapse Before Final Dividend Is Paid Lowell Depositors

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Since his turn to Washington, Congressman Jacob Rogers has conferred with several treasury officials in an effort to learn the prospects for a final dividend to depositors in the Federal Reserve Bank. It will be remembered that 50% has already been repaid to the depositors, but Mr. Rogers has been struggling to secure the prompt payment of a substantial dividend.

In an interview today with General George H. Hamner, who succeeded Charles H. Hamner, Mr. Rogers learned that a considerable further dividend must be paid before the final payment will be expected, and that this dividend will probably not exceed 25% and may not exceed 20%.

The long delay has arisen primarily from the fact that the largest block of unrealized securities is in the Northern, Southern and Atlantic States Railway Co., of which the Federal Reserve Bank owned bonds of a par value of some $50,000. This company has been in financial straits for years, and the bonds have little or no market value. The treasury department, however, has been determined to get the last possible cent for the depositors of the Federal Reserve Bank. It found that the cities and towns accommodated by the railroad were anxious not to have the railroad abandoned. Under existing Massachusetts laws, the cities and towns could not purchase or operate the railroad. A law is accordingly now being put through the Massachusetts legislature to make such purchase and operation possible. The law has already passed the senate and is expected to receive the signature of the Governor soon. Within a short time after the enactment, Receiver Hamner expects to sell to the interested cities and towns the bank's ownership in the securities of the railroad.

The only other stumbling block to a final settlement arises from the bank's ownership of securities of a nominal value of $27,000 in a fruit and vegetable company in the state of Washington. This company has also long been in financial difficulty. Mr. Hamner hopes before very long to realize upon at least a portion of the value represented by these securities.

Mr. Hamner informs Mr. Rogers that it requires over $28,000 to pay a 1% dividend to the depositors in the Lowell Bank. He now has on hand about $30,000. If he should realize 50% on the par value of the two blocks of securities mentioned, the total assets, without any allowance for expenses, would permit a final dividend of only about 2 1/2%. Mr. Rogers believes that by autumn the winding up of the affairs of the bank will be complete.

URGE RECONSIDERATION OF TERMS OF PEACE

LONDON, May 24.—An appeal signed by a number of eminent persons and others, including the bishop of Oxford, Arthur Henderson, leader of the labor party in the house of commons; H. G. Wells, John Masfield, Lady Gilbert, George G. A. Murray, and Jerome K. Jerome, authors, has been published here, urging the reconsideration of the terms of peace on the ground that they belie the spirit of the 14 points of President Wilson. The appeal declares that the terms constitute a breach of faith with a beaten enemy and reduce Germany to the position of a subject nation. It concludes with a statement that on such a basis "it is impossible to establish any true League of Nations."

VOTE ON PROHIBITION AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE

DALLAS, Tex., May 24.—Amendments to the state constitution giving suffrage to women and prohibiting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors were voted upon in Texas today. Advocates and opponents of both causes have conducted vigorous campaigns, and a heavy vote was predicted.

The state is dry under the zone law, which prohibits sale of liquor within 10 miles of a military reservation. The state court of criminal appeals recently declared unconstitutional the state-wide prohibition law passed by the legislature last year.

N. Y. Brewers Obtain Injunction To Prevent Interference With Manufacture

NEW YORK, May 24.—Uninterrupted production of "war beer" until the courts have passed on the claim of the United States Brewers' association that the beverage, containing 23 per cent alcohol, is non-intoxicating, was assured yesterday when Federal Judge Mayer granted an injunction restraining government interference with its manufacture.

The court declared that his decision had been influenced by President Wilson's message to congress recommending repeal of the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it relates to beer and wine, and by Federal Judge A. N. Hand's ruling last week that the law placed a ban on the manufacture only of liquors that were, in fact, intoxicating.

Although United States Dist. Atty. Caffery, representing the government, opposed granting of an injunction, Judge Mayer said he believed such action would contribute to a fair settlement of the questions raised by the brewers under the emergency prohibition act.

Court to Review Decision

The injunction, a temporary one, would be effective, the court said, pending review of his decision by the circuit court of appeals; or, if the government should decide to let it stand until the brewers' suit permanently to enjoin prosecutions for manufacture of the 23 per cent brew could be tried in the district court.

Judge Mayer announced that he would sign the temporary injunction Monday and suggested that the federal attorney and Elhu Root and William D. Guthrie, counsel for the brewers, confer with the senior judge of the court of appeals, to arrange an early review of the order. District Attorney Caffery pointed out that if possible a decision on appeal should be obtained before July 1, when prohibition of the sale of intoxicants becomes effective, unless congress follows the suggestion of the president for repeal or amendment of the law.

The injunction granted was in the suit of the Jacob Rupert Brewing company against District Attorney Caffery and acting collector of internal revenue McElligott.

This is one of a series of cases raising identical questions and intended to test the emergency prohibition act in the New York district, setting a precedent for brewery operation throughout the country.

Say Brewers Face Rule

Attorneys for the brewers declared they sought the temporary restraining order to prevent suspension and the consequent ruin of their clients' business while proof was being taken on their contention that "war beer" was not intoxicating. The federal attorney urged that there was no ground for enjoining the administration of criminal justice on mere allegations of threats to enforce the law.

Judge Mayer declared he wished to remove the case from "the technique of law" believing that the interests of the United States as well as the vast property interests involved would best be served by thorough consideration of the case in a single trial. He did not think anything would be gained by prosecutions here and there, terminating possible proceedings along that line "a legal fiction." He ruled that an injunction could properly be issued on the implied threat of the government prosecuting authorities to enforce the law.

The court asserted that he must accept as the law in the case Judge Hand's decision that the wartime prohibition act, both as to manufacture after May 1 and sale after July 1, applied only to beer, wine and kindred products that were intoxicating. He added that when the president, having restricted production of beverages during the war crisis, announced publicly that the national interest no longer required a ban on beer and wine, "a court of equity must necessarily accept the pronouncement as coming from a well informed source."

Scientists' Views Presented

In their argument for the temporary injunction of the brewers' counsel called the court's attention to a volume of affidavits prepared for the anticipated trial of the suits seeking a permanent injunction, these documents asserting that 23 per cent beer is a non-intoxicant.

Statements to this effect were sworn to by Dr. Willis J. Gies, professor of biological chemistry at Columbia university; Dr. Robert A. Harre, professor of therapeutics at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia; Dr. Stephen P. Jewett, chief psychiatrist of the alcoholic wards at Bellevue hospital; Prof. John Marshall of the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Charles A. Rosewater of Newark, authority on alcoholism and inebriety and many brewery officials, employees of labor and labor union officials.

George Beck, consul general of Denmark in the United States, testified that since the introduction of 23 per cent beer into his country, intoxication has been reduced to a minimum.

METHODS OF REDUCING NAVY AND MARINES

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Methods of reducing the navy and the marine corps to a peace basis have been discussed by Secretary Daniels and his bureau chiefs. Thousand of officers and enlisted men still must be released before normal strength is reached, but it is believed that at the present rate of demobilization the numerical strength of the navy will be well below the 250,000 mark set by the secretary at the end of the fiscal year, June 1.

Based on a total strength of 250,000 men, naval officials are confronted with the necessity for reducing the officer personnel from more than 20,000 now on duty to less than 10,000 by July 1. During the war practically all of the regular officers were temporarily promoted. Getting the navy back to a peace basis means that the majority of these officers must be returned to their former rank.

While most line officers favor a permanent peace strength much in excess of the authorized 17,500 men, Secretary Daniels is reported to have insisted that the reduction be carried out as planned. After he returned from Europe he said that all reserve force members who desired release would be returned to civil life by August.

Major General George Barnett, commander of the marine corps, said today that the marines would have little difficulty in reducing to the normal strength of 25,000 officers and men by July 1.

DEBATE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The peace treaty with its League of Nations covenant was debated for three hours in the senate yesterday and at adjournment the resolution which furnished the vehicle for the discussion went over as unfinished business to come up again when the senate reconvenes Monday.

The resolution merely calls on the state department to furnish the senate with the complete text of the treaty, but as the debate progresses, discussion shifted to the merits of the league and treaty themselves. A dozen senators, including the leaders on both sides, were drawn into the discussion and sharp exchanges presaged the bitterness of the fight that is to come when the treaty actually comes up for ratification.

Senator Johnson of California, republican, author of the resolution, started the debate yesterday with a short speech charging that the treaty supporters had "something to conceal." This assertion drew an indignant reply from Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democrat of the foreign relations committee, who declared the president was following well-established precedent in keeping the treaty text in confidence and that for the senate to request him to do otherwise would be a "gross breach of international proprieties."

A charge that republicans were attempting to make the treaty a partisan question was made by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democrat, who cited as evidence the telegram sent by Mr. Lodge some weeks ago to republican senators asking them not to discuss the revised League of Nations covenant pending a party conference. The republican leader retorted that the cautionary telegram had no such purpose and that "not a word" of discussion of the treaty had passed in any of the conferences of republican senators.

In the course of the debate a bitter attack on the league covenant and on President Wilson's course in the peace conference was made by Senator Sherman of Illinois, republican, who earlier in the day had presented a resolution declaring it the sense of the senate that the treaty and the covenant should be considered separately when they come up for ratification.

At Mr. Sherman's request, his resolution went over and will be called up for debate probably next week.

How long the discussion started by Senator Johnson's resolution is to continue could not be predicted by either side last night. During the day Senator Robinson gave notice that he expected to address the senate at greater length on Monday in support of the treaty, and Senator Reed of Missouri, democrat, who is understood to oppose it, also announced that he would speak on the subject at Monday's session. Many other senators are known to be preparing addresses.

COMING HOME FROM THE PEACE CONFERENCE

IRISH PRIEST CRITICISED BRITISH GOVERNMENT

NEW YORK, May 23.—Rev. Fr. Thomas A. Rahilly, superior general of the Presentation order with headquarters at Cork, Ireland, has been released on parole from Ellis island. He was detained apparently because charged with having criticised the British government. It took Vice President Marshall himself to secure the release. Fr. Rahilly has two sisters in Massachusetts, both married to American citizens, yet he was held as a possible "undesirable alien." He came to this country purely to do work for his order, his friends state.

Many prominent persons have taken up the case of Fr. Rahilly. Among them is Rev. Norman Thomas, a Presbyterian clergyman, who said in regard to the affair: "This case will cause a shake-up among American officials, who seemingly without knowing what they are doing, are today dominated by a foreign government."

There are no charges against the priest other than that of criticism of Great Britain. Mr. Thomas said, adding: "Even if the alleged charges were true and Fr. Rahilly with properly executed passports is to be denied admittance to America for having criticised the British government and is to be looked upon as undesirable for that reason, then every member of the 68th Regiment should be deported tomorrow."

"The fact that the American officials at Ellis island, until the direct intervention of Vice President Marshall, refused to release this prisoner in the hands of such men as Alfred Talley and Murray Hubert, who were prepared to put up a bond, is in itself a matter of no small significance, calling for the careful scrutiny of all Americans."

COMPOSITE PHOTO SHOWING HOW AIRCRAFT WILL BE USED TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

WILL FIGHT FOREST FIRES FROM AIR

SAN FRANCISCO, May.—The transoceanic flight was designed as a test of aircraft by water. Now it's to have the test by fire.

Uncle Sam has converted part of his war-time air fleet into a national forest patrol, with dirigibles, scout planes, flame extinguishing bombs and sky-riding fire ladders to save the 100,000,000,000 feet of marketable timber annually destroyed by holocaust.

The experiment is being launched in the Cleveland and Angeles national reserves in California, the U. S. forestry service and the army working together. Successful there, it will be extended to the other 155 national forests throughout the country as fast as the districts can be organized.

Under this system—conserving war's costly machinery, and opening a new field of skyraider utility—fire fighters will be rushed to incipient blazes if formerly took hours to reach. Bombing planes will smother small fires. Trained fire-fighters will be lowered by rope ladder from anchored dirigibles. And balloon sentries, in communication with forest posts by wireless, will hang over danger areas much as they hovered above the battlefield in Europe.

The first of these videttes is already on the job at Arcadia, California. Daily he scans to his 3000-foot-high post. Then at 10 o'clock each morning two planes leave Marsh field near Riverside, following routes from which the heavy forest can be scanned for over 100 miles. A second patrol covers the district in the afternoon.

In these planes the observers carry maps on which the forest is ruled off in squares, keyed by plainly visible landmarks and villages. A discovered blaze is immediately marked in the corresponding square on the map. The machine pilot then swoops low over the nearest village, drops a parachute message asking the finder immediately to phone the information to the district supervisor, or scurries back to headquarters to report personally.

All residents have been informed about these messages and how to cooperate most effectively. Meantime, the dirigible at Arcadia remains aloft throughout the day, in wireless touch with ground stations where trucks suitable for hard mountain travel stand ready for instant use and a squad of ten enlisted men is prepared to rush into the forest with extinguishers, axes, picks, tanks of water and canteens.

An additional lookout is kept by student army observers on Mt. Wilson, night and day, and by forest rangers and lookouts on the highest points of land.

This is the new fire patrol system which U. S. forestry and army air service officials believe will prove so effective in preserving life and property and conserving American timber resources that forested districts throughout the country will soon be similarly protected.

SAN FRANCISCO, May.—Girls—little girls—how would you like to own your own house?

Little Miss Gwendolyn Clarke, her dollies and her admiring friends think it's great. Out in the backyard of her home in Oakland, California, is a delightful little bungalow, as neat and artistic as you please, and it's all Gwendolyn's. She keeps the real key to the real front door, and is hostess at the real good times held in the mansion.

Gwendolyn is 11 years old. After many weeks of study, she drew the plans for the house, outside and in. Her dad built it according to her plans. And it's a beauty. The little dwelling has one room, prettily finished with soft light coming through colored-glass windows at the sides, and furnished with small tables and chairs. The front entrance is a neat white-painted porch, gay with polka ferns and flowers. The front has two plain windows, and the front door a glass inset. There are window-boxes, and a little peaked roof, just like the witch's house in Grimm's fairy tales.

Gwendolyn's mansion cost only $20. But she wouldn't sell it for a thousand.

IMPORTANT RULING BY VICE PRESIDENT

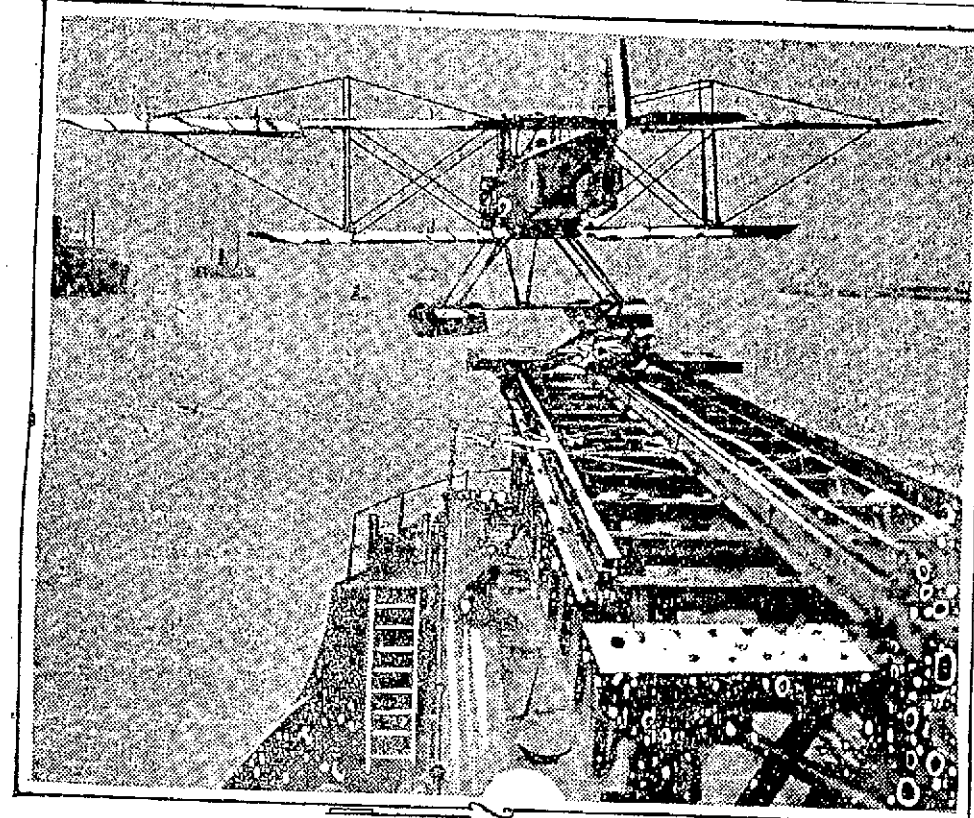

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A ruling by Vice President Marshall in the senate today regarding organization of the senate committees was believed by some followers of senate procedure to have potential bearings upon the contest between progressives and regulars over committee chairmanships.

Interpreting a resolution adopted by the last senate, the vice president ruled that the senate committee continued in authority until reorganized, with full power to act. He observed, however, that the republican majority had power to quickly change committee personnel.

Senator Lodge excepted to the vice president's ruling which was deemed of special interest because of opposition by progressive republican senators to the selection of Senators Penrose of Pennsylvania and Warren of Wyoming, as chairmen of the finance and appropriations committees, respectively. Senator Borah of Idaho, the progressive leader, has stated that, if necessary, the progressives will attempt to prevent organization of the finance and appropriations committees.

Senator Lodge introduced resolutions for amendment of senate rules to conform with republican caucus plans reducing personnel of the principal committees to 17, having senators from more than two of the most important committees and providing for consideration of the annual diplomatic appropriation bill by the foreign relations committee instead of the appropriations committee.

JIM HILL WAS RIGHT

The late James Hill, empire builder, probably had the right idea when he spoke thus to a group of farmers holding a convention at one of the towns his railroad entered in the north-west.

"Remember that the farm wife is one-half the family, and the bigger half. A helpful, thrifty wife who conserves her husband's capital, health, earning ability and pocketbook, will make him succeed."

In this respect it also goes for the majority of Lowell wives. Necessity and natural inclination force them to be the ideal wife as outlined by Mr. Hill.

SOCIALIST THEORIES

If the socialists want their party to get a foothold here, they will have to avoid all connection with the elements that advocate violence. The socialists of this country, previous to the war, were not known to be in favor of violence in any form. For that reason they were allowed to spout on the street corners and in other public places, a privilege which, in the new order of things, will be denied them. Care must be taken hereafter that the itinerant agitators must have a permit before they can get up in any public place to harangue the multitude. The same rule must be applied to preachers for the reason that we find so-called ministers of the gospel in certain cases preaching revolution and making religion a mere cloak to cover their real motives and the sinister character of their appeals.

No longer can men be allowed to come out along our public streets to incite the laboring classes against those who, having saved a little money, invest it in manufacturing industries. Suppose a mill operative, by his hard labor, saves $100 or $500 and invests it in cotton mill shares. He will then become a stockholder in the corporation for which he may be employed and may have a voice in its management. What will he then think of the socialist who tells the people that the cotton mills should be confiscated and their monetary value divided among the people?

If every man who has saved money would hoard it, then there would be no factories in which to work except established by the government. Banks are necessary to the transaction of business and factories to afford employment to the people; and the man who invests his money in an industry that affords employment to the masses is a public benefactor, whereas he would show his selfishness if he kept his money in a bank where it would be of little use to the community. Yet the socialists tell us that the property of the capitalists should be taken from them to be distributed among those whose laziness, idleness or lack of business tact, explains their present condition. This dangerous doctrine of socialism sanctions plunder. Any operative who has accumulated a thousand dollars or over can become a part-owner in a cotton mill and a sharer in its profits when there are any.

The stockholders in some of these concerns have lost their money. It is a fact that when the capitalist invests his money in an industry, he usually assumes more or less risk of losing it.

Many of the street railway systems of this country are in bankruptcy, which means that the stockholders are threatened with losing the greater part of the money they have invested in these corporations. So it was with many of the railroads before they were taken over by the government. When a man invests his money in these public utilities, he is taking a gambling chance on losing all, yet he is criticized by the socialists although he shows courage in putting his money where it will help the people. Those who have money try to make it work so as to earn more money. In doing so they help business. Is that any reason why their property should be seized and divided up among loafers, drunkards and other spendthrifts?

THE RIVER PROJECT

It is very disappointing to the people of Lowell to learn that an adverse report upon the Merrimack river project comes from Washington at a time when those who have been behind the movement for several years, supposed there would be no further holdup in the plans to make the river navigable.

It would seem that there is some hidden hand working against this movement and responsible for the delay. The head of the engineers at Washington claims that the expense of the undertaking would be out of proportion to the commercial benefits to be derived therefrom.

We do not see that the situation is changed in any degree except that the cost of labor and material is somewhat higher than when the favorable report was made by the engineers some few years ago. At that time the cost was set at $7,000,000 and somebody, apparently without authority, has made the claim that the improvements would cost $11,000,000. There seems to be so much opposition to this proposition that the people may as well realize now as later on, that they will have to fight the influence of certain corporations in this matter, and it remains to be seen whether the people or the corporations can exercise the greater influence with the powers at Washington.

The advocates of making the Merrimack navigable have proved their case over and over again and it looks now as if they would have to renew the battle once more and go through the same old series of appeals and trips to Washington, just as if the proposition had not been thoroughly investigated and cleared up effectually in point of utility, feasibility and commercial expediency. If there is any fighting spirit left in the boards of trade of the Merrimack valley, it should be brought to bear against an opposition so insidious, so treacherous and so detrimental to the interests of the towns and cities affected, nay, to the entire state.

REPUBLICAN TACTICS

Judging from the manner in which the republican party has started fireworks at Washington, it appears that the leaders are to devote more time to politics than to business. Already they have planned an investigation of practically every department having to do with the management of the war, charging that there has been great lack of efficiency and a waste of public funds. This is but a resumption of the political fishing parties that were inaugurated at various times by the military committees of the senate, during the sessions of the last congress.

The republicans are depending upon popular discontent as a result of the heavy taxes and unsatisfactory industrial conditions, to bring them the support necessary to discredit the democratic administration and win a victory next year. The motives of the party in conducting the proposed investigations are purely political. The sole aim is to blacken and discredit the administration. While these political movements are in progress, the business before congress will necessarily be held up and again the public will have an illustration of the fact that the republican party is more strongly bent on securing a victory next year than on bringing prosperity this year.

HAWKER'S WIDOW

The British government is criticized for its failure to co-operate with the aviators planning to fly across the ocean and thus bring glory to their country and government. There was no attempt whatever to offer any aid to Hawker and Rayman in their projected flights from Newfoundland to Ireland. Hawker had the courage to undertake the transatlantic flight under circumstances that made his success very dubious and actually resulted in the death of himself and his companion. It would seem that the London Daily Mail could do a very gracious thing if it awarded all or even half of the $50,000 set up as a prize for the first ocean flight, to the dependents of Hawker and his navigator, Grieve. No more daring act than that of Hawker can be imagined and his chief motive was to win the glory of being the first to make the perilous flight.

FOOD PRICES

Congressman John F. Fitzgerald is sure to make himself heard wherever he goes. He also knows how to strike a popular chord. He criticizes the present condition of the food situation and in so doing, he voices the sentiments of the public at large. The price of food is too high and the congressmen charges that food profiteers who are hoarding are partly responsible for this state of affairs. If that is the case, and there appears to be some ground for the charge, it should receive the prompt attention of the government.

THE INCREASE

One week from next Monday, the 15 per cent increase in wages for the operatives of the textile factories, will take effect. To most operatives, that will mean from $1.75 to $2 per week increase. That will help very considerably in meeting the domestic bills. It will certainly bring about a more friendly feeling between the operatives and their employers, and probably a more personal interest in the welfare of the factory on the part of every operative.

A queer situation has arisen in New York city. Actors—the good, bad and indifferent—insist on forming themselves into a labor union and basing the remuneration for weekly employment on a scale of eight performances weekly. The theatrical managers object to this, saying that the stage and show business in general is more of a gamble than anything else they know of, and the actors ought not to standardize themselves into a labor union. This does not awe the actors in the least and they are firmly resolved to go ahead and unionize, and get affiliation with the American Federation of Labor if possible. The situation has its humorous aspect too. Ancient manuscripts of Shakespeare order certain parts to be taken by "walking gentlemen." In time to come, at presentations of even our best plays, the "walking gentleman" may be the union's walking delegate butting in on a scene and demanding a star's working card.

A Gotham baseball fan has written to the New York Sun, complaining that the commercial activities of all sorts of peanut and tonic vendors at the Polo grounds, inconvenience and annoy men who have come prepared to spend a pleasant afternoon watching this exciting and wholesome sport. We have, in years past, suffered the same annoyance in the minor leagues. The local managements have a duty in this respect which they ought not to lose sight of. There are things more important than tonic and peanuts at a first class ball game.

New York brokers say that between four and five thousand fake oil companies are formed every year to be exploited all through the east, including New England, for the purpose of wringing the hard earned dollars from the hoist polloi in exchange for worthless stock. So if you are tempted to turn in your Liberty bond for oil stock, bear in mind that you have at least 4000 chances to get bunked.

The republicans in congress seem inclined to balk upon President Wilson's proposition for the repeal of the war time prohibition act. They want to throw the responsibility on the president himself just as if he could repeal an act of congress or set it aside by an official mandate.

Possibilities of creating new fortunes by investments in developing the natural resources of Spain are said to be luring American investors. Perhaps they have in mind the acquisition of some of those fabled "castles in Spain."

Let us hope our local hosiery factories will never have to face Chinese competition. A consular report states that a Chinese woman, by the use of a particular kind of machine, can knit 18 dozen pairs of socks per day and is satisfied with a daily wage of 30 cents.

Finally, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives' (or Fruit Liver Tablets). Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down. Raw Beef Boozing

Dr. A. A. Brill of New York, says one may enter a state almost identical to drunkenness by eating the following:

Four pieces of toast with strawberry jelly.
Two crullers.
One boiled egg.
One roast beef sandwich.
One pound of almonds.
Three sliced cucumbers.
Six bananas.
Two frankfurters with tea.
Three nut cakes.
One pound of chocolate candy.
The Doc, tells of a woman who ate all that in half an hour and "exhibited signs of intoxication." He also says that one may "receive an intoxicating feeling" after partaking of three pounds of raw beef.

Pointing the Way

Automobilists who come through Lowell on route to seashore, mountains or merely "going through," do not have to spend many moments in asking the traffic cop which road leads to his or her intended destination. At almost all the intersections of streets from which the main arteries of auto traffic run the ever obliging A.L.A. has posted signs which inform the traveler to where and what the thoroughfare will lead him. The one spot in the city which makes the "almost" necessary in the above statement is at the intersection of Merrimack and Pawtucket streets, where indeed the autoist will have to stop and scratch his head unless he is one of those rare creatures, an autoist who carries with him a complete map of the highways and byways of the state. Wherefore and furthermore, it would seem that in order to make the city's auto sign record 100 per cent. perfect, a guide board should be placed at this point. For it is certain that whoever does will earn the undying gratitude of the motoring fraternity who pass through the City of Spindles.

"The Middle-Man"

"Reduce! reduce my cost of living!" I cry to butcher, baker, grocer.
They smile at me and say "No, sir!" They smile at me without misgiving. And claim they're doing all they can. But can't cast out the middle-man.

The wicked middle-man is standing between consumer and producer. They prove to me (as I to you, sir). They're all of us engaged in handling. Our substance to this light, this ban. This omnipresent middle-man.

Accusing all, from farm to basket. They all respond "Oh, no, not I, sir! It is that other guilty guy, sir. To share my margin? Ouch! don't ask it!"

I look from Beersheba to Dan. But can't locate this middle-man.

Sometimes I'm forced to wonder whether I'm not myself the man I've sought. Life's grinding mill-stones find me caught between the upper and the nether. Alas! alas! that solves the riddle: I am the man, who's in the middle! (Copyright, 1919, N.Y.A.)

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I learn that one of the pet projects of Mayor Thompson this spring and one that he hopes can be put through, is connected with the public bathing places on the Merrimack river. He tells me that last summer it was not an infrequent thing to see as many as 3000 persons of all ages enjoying the river bathing at this place up on the boulevard. As an extension of this branch of city recreational life, Mr. Thompson believes it is distinctly worth while to build a municipal bath house. Architect Henry Rourke is interested in the project, too, and he has submitted a design to the mayor for an inexpensive bath house that would be both serviceable and pretty. It is the mayor's idea that this bathing place ought to have its usefulness extended so that there can be a sort of a playground of there, too, much after the example of Magazine beach at Cambridge. The park commission is understood to be in sympathy with the plan and if the city fathers authorize the necessary appropriation next week this improvement can become a reality.

In an enjoyable chat I had with Lt. Howard C. Arnold of Providence who was here visiting his grandfather, Capt. William A. Arnold of 401 Beacon street, recently, I asked him how the Belgians compared with the French people for progressiveness. Lieut. Arnold served 18 months with the 26th

Division overseas. He said that it was generally understood among the American soldiers that the Belgians had better industrial equipment and better tools of all kinds than the people in northern France.

I asked the Lieutenant if he had ever had opportunity to talk with boche prisoners enough to gain an idea of what their point of view towards the war was. He said he had. He said that it was drilled into the boche soldier that he need not think for himself and he in fact, must not. The boche soldier was told that if he were captured by the Americans, he would be tortured to a degree beyond which even his own savage mind could not imagine. Occasionally he was told that the Americans had come to capture and hold the German fatherland and it was up to him to help stop the rush. In the case of officers, Lieut. Arnold says their mentality was of course somewhat better, but they too, worked under the stress of harsh orders from higher authority. Until late in the game they expected to be conquerors of vast lands and provinces to the south and east of Germany and that after these countries were made vassal nations, each officer would be given a fine estate to which he might retire and live in luxury and ease all the rest of his life. And so with the lure of this and like hirelings tugging for a mercenary motive entirely, these Hun officers kept on until the tide turned against them at Chateau Thierry July 15, 1918.

SUTHERLAND TO FIGHT SHRUNK

Lawrence Man Says Army Engineer Exceeds Authority in Merrimack Report

Essex County Solons Will Protest—Down River City May Send Delegation

(Special to The Sun)
LAWRENCE, May 24.—Whatever may be the disposition on the part of other Merrimack valley cities, tetrarchic or otherwise, in regard to taking prompt action following up the adverse report on deepening the Merrimack river for shipping purposes, Andrew R. Sutherland of this city, merchant and accredited father of the Merrimack river navigation project, has announced that he believes Col. Francis Shunk of the United States engineers overstepped his authority and out of the province of his jurisdiction when he, in addition to submitting his technical report went far enough to advise the government not to spend its money as a co-partner of the enterprise.

Mr. Sutherland announces he is camped on Col. Shunk's trail and that he has already requested Congressman Phelan, Rogers and Larkin to take quick and decisive official steps that will right the injustice done the Merrimack valley by the Shunk report and to offset the influence of it.

Mr. Sutherland's present activity is based on the fact, as he calls attention to it, that Col. Shunk was not asked to report on the advisability of the project but on the contrary was asked to submit figures showing the approximate cost to have the work done in the immediate future, so as to make comparison with the figures for this same work which had been submitted in 1912.

As against the statement in the Shunk report that the potential commerce possibilities of the Merrimack river do not in his opinion seem to warrant the expenditure of the large appropriation necessary for the work, Mr. Sutherland points out that the commerce of the Merrimack valley at the present time amounts to $200,000,000 annually. Today Mr. Sutherland said: "It is necessary a large delegation representing Lawrence business men can go to Washington and back up the strong protest against this report being accepted, which will be made."

G.A.R. Say His Proposed Address on League "Unpatriotic and Disrespectful"

WICHITA, Kas., May 24.—William H. Taft's proposed Memorial Day address at Kansas City on the League of Nations would be "unpatriotic and disrespectful" in the view of the state G. A. R., which has adopted a protest.

The resolution says: "We, the G. A. R. veterans of the state of Kansas, respectfully but earnestly protest against such a violation of the spirit and purpose of our Memorial Day and call upon our commander-in-chief to present this protest to ex-President Taft and request him to refuse to be made a party to this unpatriotic and disrespectful purpose."

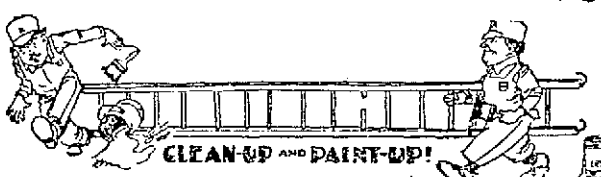

National Commander-in-Chief C. E. Adams made a speech at the state encampment, in which he said that neither Kansas City nor any other part of the United States could "desecrate the day."

"I do not care whether it be an ex-president or a living president," he said. "The sanctity of Memorial Day among the Grand Army of the Republic and the patriotic people of America, must be respected."

Big Four Considers Economic Clauses—Treaty To Be Presented Wednesday

Austria Entirely Crushed—Much Work Still For Peacemakers

PARIS, May 24.—The Council of Four today continued its consideration of the economic clauses of the Austrian peace treaty, calling in experts for consultation. It is still expected that the treaty will be ready for presentation to the Austrians on Wednesday next.

The Council of Four yesterday considered the military terms as framed by Marshal Foch, Gen. Diaz and other military leaders. Austria's army of upward of a million men, which was secured only to that of Germany, is reduced by the treaty to 15,000 men; vir-

HINES ASKS BILLION FOR RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Appropriation of $1,200,000,000 in addition to $500,000,000 already provided, for use of the railroad administration during 1918 and 1919, was requested today by Director General Hines.

The estimate revealed that there had been an operating deficit of $236,154,919 during the last calendar year and of $250,000,000 during the first four months of 1919.

Of the total of $1,700,000,000 appropriated and requested, Mr. Hines said that $1,214,000,000 eventually would be returned to the government. This includes money tied up in working capital and advanced on account to the railroad corporations.

Mr. Hines said that in his judgment the operating deficits for 1918 and for the four months in 1919 were clearly due to the war and to abnormal after-the-war conditions. Because of the present changing conditions, he declined to make any prediction of the financial results of operation during the remainder of the year.

TWO SUBMARINES AND DESTROYER LAUNCHED

QUINCY, May 24.—Two submarines and a destroyer were launched here today, the submarines at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and the destroyer at the Victory plant at Squantum.

The destroyer was christened the Meade for the late Rear Admiral Richard W. Meade, his daughter, Miss Annie Pauline Meade, acting as sponsor. It had been planned to have the vessel christened by the widow, but because of her age, she was not able to be present. Admiral Meade was the son of Captain Richard W. Meade, who served in the navy in the days of wooden ships.

The submarines sent overboard were the R-9 and the AA-2, the latter one of the biggest craft of the kind. She is a sister ship of the AA-1, built two years ago as an experimental vessel.

The R-9 was christened by Mrs. Mary Ingalls Stowe, wife of Dr. L. L. Stowe, a naval lieutenant on duty at the shipyard, and the AA-2 by Mrs. William T. Jordan, wife of Commander John T. Jordan, in charge of the case inspection department at the yard.

Both were constructed under the direction of the Electric Boat Co., whose plant is within the Fore River yards.

PAY! DOLLARS FOR DOUGHNUTS

This Is Tag and Doughnut Day For the Salvation Army

Drive Must Take a Big Spurt To Reach Quota Required in Lowell

It's doughnut day today. Bright and early this morning the lassies of the Lowell Salvation Army appeared on the streets, each with a basket of doughnuts—plain ordinary doughnuts, crisp and browned, such doughnuts as won immortal fame for the Salvation Army overseas.

And 200 more bright eyed, rosy cheeked young women also appeared on the streets just as early, each with a supply of "doughnut" tags, and those who refused to help the Sally drive by allowing themselves to be decorated with the insignia of the "angel lassies," or fed with the luscious doughnuts which brought peace, happiness and content to the weary Yankee doughboy returning from the trenches, were few and far between.

The humble doughnut, humble no longer since it carved its niche in the hall of memories of the boys who fought and won was also on sale throughout the day at Pollard's store and the Gas Appliance shop across the way, where the angel lassies industriously tried and served their brown coated wares to all comers who were willing to pay the price, any sum from a quarter to $10.00.

Tonight is the night of the parade, and all the boys from over there will add their numerous brassards, stripes and other insignia of service as an artistic reminder of the Sally doughnut. Continued to Page 1—Second Section

2,215,161 Officers and Men Discharged From Service Since November 11

All But Regulars Will Be Out of France by June 12, Says Gen. March

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Revised plans for the return of the overseas forces provide for the sailing from France of all troops except those in the regular divisions by June 12. General March announced today.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Demobilization of the army has now returned more than 60 per cent of officers and men to civil life. It was announced today officially. The total, including partial reports to date, was given as 2,215,161, of whom 112,558 were officers. Sailings from overseas since November 11 had totaled 1,152,127.

In the service of supply 100,000 troops are scheduled to sail in May, 200,000 in June and the small remainder in July. A definite schedule has been arranged for closing all the supply section and leave areas now under control of the A.E.F. headquarters. General headquarters at Chaumont will be closed early in June, after which time the Coblenz sector will be supplied direct from Antwerp.

The return movement in the week of May 20 established a new high record for transporting troops either on the eastward or westward movement. During that week 133,893 officers and men were embarked for home.

TO REIMBURSE "MEN WILLING TO SERVE"

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Men who were called in the draft and failed for any reason to respond and who were restored to duty upon reporting to a camp as "men willing to serve" will have refunded to them the money deducted from their pay to reimburse the government for the rewards paid for their apprehension. Inquiries should be sent to the director of finance.

OLD LOWELL NATIONAL BANK

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC

We are pleased to announce that we have been awarded by the architect that our new bank building will be ready for occupancy January 1st next.

The main banking room will be two stories high, and will contain a mezzanine in the rear, the floor will be of white Tennessee marble, and the counters of Siena Italian marble.

The main floor will contain four tellers' cages in the Commercial Department, four windows in the Savings Department, officers' quarters, ladies' waiting room, and customers' desk.

A safe deposit department, complete in every detail, will be located in the basement, entrance being from a wide and easy marble staircase. A large electrically protected safe deposit vault, with accommodations for more than two thousand safe deposit boxes, six coupon lockers, a customer's room and lockers for no attendant, are the features of this department. Special attention has been directed to have this space perfectly ventilated and lighted, and to make it as safe as possible, allowing privacy and ease of access.

The lighting arrangement for the main banking room will be from windows front and rear, extending the entire two stories. It is the purpose of the Directors to have the building constructed so that it is suitable by local contractors, and when present plans are carried out, Lowell will have one of the finest bank buildings north of Boston.

GREAT FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS

Bolsheviki, Pressed by Esthonian Advance, Destroy Munitions in Petrograd

Population Rises Against Reds—Americans Aid in Rout of Bolsheviki

LONDON, May 24.—Great fires and loud explosions have occurred in and around Petrograd, according to reports forwarded by the Daily Mail's correspondent at Helsingfors under date of Thursday. It is believed that the Bolsheviki, pressed by the Esthonian advance, are destroying munitions in Petrograd.

Machine gun firing has been heard in the city and it is reported that the population has risen against the Bolsheviki.

PERSISTENT DEMAND FOR CITY TAX BOOK

Despite the fact that a city ordinance provides for the publishing of a tax book at least once every two years, the city government has had only one book published since 1911. There is a persistent demand not only in city hall circles, but among citizens generally, for the publication of the book this year. Real estate men are especially anxious to have the latest information regarding real estate values and the book would be of special interest at the present time owing to the prevalent discussion over the site for the memorial auditorium.

The ordinance providing for the publishing of a tax book every two years was enacted in 1907. That year the book was published, again in 1909 and also in 1911. In 1913 it was not published, but in 1915 it was and this was the last time. It should have been published in 1917 and again this year, but so far there has been nothing doing.

So insistent has the demand come that affairs have reached a point where the board of trade has called the attention of the city council to the fact that it isn't living up to the law. Last Tuesday Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the board of trade appeared before the council and asked that the books be published. No action was taken on his plea. The cost of publishing the books is $1500. Commissioner Donnelly of the finance department asked early in the year when the appropriation budget was being made up that provision be made for this work, but his request was not carried out.

Officials of the steamship company could give no definite figures until the passenger list is compared with the names of the survivors. This will be a work of some little time, as passengers and members of the crew were picked up by at least four other steamers.

BIG CROWD AT BALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

A big crowd was at Spaulding park this afternoon for the first half holiday game of the season. The third base bleachers and one-half of the grandstand were filled at 3 o'clock. Manager Hayden felt satisfied with yesterday's initial lineup and announced the same batting order for today. The Portland team practiced with Heime Wagner, for years a member of the Red Sox board of strategy, at second base. Hayden had Elkins and Penfold warming up.

Mayor Perry E. Thompson threw over the first ball and prior to the start of the game stood on the home plate and acted as a season ticket to all games in Lowell, together with another ticket which admits to any game at any time in another park around the circuit. After lively bidding, which started at $5, the tickets were finally sold to Commissioner Charles J. Morse for $25, the money to be given to the Salvation Army drive.

Mathew Temperance Institute Will Welcome Members Who Served in War

On Tuesday evening, June 3, the Mathew Temperance Institute will honor its members who served our nation during the world war. Nearly sixty names are inscribed on the society's roll of honor, and now that most of these young soldiers and sailors have returned to civilian life, their fellow members have decided to delay no longer the welcome which they so richly deserve and have fixed upon a banquet and ball as the most suitable form of entertainment. On this occasion the society will also entertain former soldiers and sailors who have become identified with the institute since their discharge from the service and the soloists and young ladies of the chorus who took part in the Irish concert on March 16.

The banquet will begin promptly at 8.30 p. m. at Mathew hall and many prominent speakers and entertainers will take part in the post-prandial exercises. Dancing will start at 9.30 to the music of Frederick's orchestra. The banquet will be served by Caterer M. A. Lyons.

The committee on arrangements is as follows: C. Frank Reilly, chairman; Thomas J. Tighe, secretary; Thomas J. Durkin, treasurer; Arthur M. Finerty, George W. Bowers, J. Frank Sullivan, Patrick P. Nestor, Patrick Kane, John W. Sharkey, George Lyons, John J. Townsend and Bernard H. Bourke.

Layton Hammer of Chicago recently sent to Dr. C. P. Henry of Georgetown, Ky., a letter saying that he was a patient of the physician. 37 years ago, when he was a boy; that his widowed mother had paid all of the bill at the time excepting $7; that with interest computed at 5 per cent for 17 years he figured that the debt now amounts to $2275, and so enclosed check for that amount. "I am a Methodist," wrote Hammer, "and could not face my Maker if I had it on my conscience that I not alone owed you money, but really owe you life."

GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD

Arthur Harrington Honored by Bay State Friends—Promoted to Quincy Office

P. Arthur Harrington, the popular and genial attaché of the Lowell claim department of the Bay State Street railway, has been promoted to the office of assistant claim agent of the Quincy division and will assume his new duties on Monday.

Mr. Harrington has made gold since joining the claim staff and his friends and associates here regret to see him leave, but rejoice in the fact that he goes to assume greater responsibilities. They are all confident that he will prove a big success in his new field and he leaves with the best wishes of all.

This noon time, a number of his friends assembled at the local office and tendered him a send-off. Frederick P. McManey, claim agent for Lowell, under whom Mr. Harrington worked while here, acted as spokesman for the assembly and said that he knew not only his own sentiments but the sentiments of all, when he said that Mr. Harrington's departure from Lowell will be keenly felt by all with whom he had any dealings during his connection with the local division. He said that all rejoiced, however, in the knowledge that in sending Mr. Harrington to Quincy the officials of the company have recognized ability, and have selected a young man who will make good. The speaker said that Lowell's loss will be Quincy's gain and that he is very confident that the promotion to the Quincy office will not be the last one for Mr. Harrington. In conclusion he said that friends of the young man in the office, on the road and around the square felt that they could not let the occasion pass without presenting him some slight token of esteem and consequently had collected a purse of gold, of substantial size, and in turning it over to Mr. Harrington, said that he hoped he would purchase some article that would always serve as a pleasant reminder of the days he spent in the Lowell claim department. The Lowell division is now made up of Claim Agent Frederick P. McManey, and investigators John Kelley and George Emley.

LITTLE GIRL KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Pearl Paquette, aged 4 years, daughter of Joseph and Molly (Heslin) Paquette of 206 White street, was run over by an automobile near her home shortly before 7 o'clock last evening and died on the way to the hospital.

The body was viewed later by Medical Examiner W. B. Smith, who stated that death might have resulted from the crushing of the chest, caused probably by the front wheel of the machine. The machine is owned and was operated by Louis A. Olney of 118 Riverside street, teacher of chemistry at the Lowell Textile school and in the car with him were Mr. Madden and Mr. Mandell, two students at the school. In reporting the accident to the police Mr. Olney claimed that he turned into White street at a rate of about 10 miles an hour and that the child, who was on the sidewalk, ran into the middle of the street and remained there until the car was abreast of her. She then ran directly in front of the machine and was thrown under the wheels before the car could be brought to a stop. The child was placed in the automobile and a hurried trip was made to the Lowell General hospital, but when the institution was reached the little girl had breathed her last.

LOWELL GIRL HURT IN AUTO CRASH

CAMP DEVENS, May 24.—Six women employees of the quartermaster laundry at this camp were shaken up and four of them injured at noon yesterday, when a litany bus in which they were riding from Shirley struck the steel framework on the bridge over the Nashua river, about 200 yards from the west gate of the cantonment. The official report of the accident says that the car "was being driven rapidly."

Four of the girls, Marie Duffy, Helen Duffy, Agnes Daley and Maria Verreault, were taken to the Base hospital for treatment. They were taken to the hospital by Capt. Brown and Lt. Reynolds.

Marie Duffy, whose home is at 335 Lawrence street, Lowell, was the only one of the four admitted to the hospital. She received lacerations of the scalp and a possible fracture of the skull.

ANAEMIA

MAKES LIFE A BURDEN TO WOMEN

THE ailments, annoyances and sufferings which are such a burden to women from early youth until old age, are mostly due to Anaemia. IT is Anaemia which brings on headaches, backaches, buzzing in the ears, fatigue, loss of breath at the least exertion, palpitations, Brain Fog, Sleeplessness, Nervousness.

IT is Anaemia which causes the numerous disturbances which are peculiar to women only; white lips, gums and eyelids; pale and sallow complexion; feeble appetite; the tendency to melancholy and loss of energy.

IT is Anaemia that makes them victims of "Nervousness," and the many ailments which often accompany "Change of Life."

THERE is one infallible remedy for Anaemia—RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. They are a sure protection against Anaemia.

RED PILLS give a thorough treatment in blood-building, and give to the pale and weak woman the help she needs to win back health and strength.

IF you have any of the troubles mentioned above, NOW—TODAY—is the time to begin taking RED PILLS. Take them regularly every day and they will soon show you that they are the right medicine for you for Anaemia.

MRS. HENRI LAFLEUR, 27 Hamilton Street, Holyoke, Mass., says:

"Before my marriage, and during the first years after my marriage, I was weak and debilitated and suffered greatly from all the symptoms which usually accompany Anaemia in women. A poor appetite, bad digestion, constant headaches, loss of energy, palpitations of the heart at the least effort, to such an extent that it was hard for me to move about the house. I went from one physician to another until a good old lady friend of mine advised me to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women."

I took them for years; they cured me; they gave me strength, they cured me. They not only cured me of my different ailments, but they also helped me to give birth to perfectly healthy children. I never was without RED PILLS during all the time I raised my family, and this means a great many years. I have not used RED PILLS alone to cure me, but I keep them in the house, as a household necessity, and once in a while, I take them, and never without good results."

CAUTION:—The formula of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women was first discovered in Paris, in the year of 1870, by a famous French specialist.

They have been largely used in France by French women ever since. American women are now using them with gratifying results for the treatment of Anaemia and general debility.

TRADERS BANK DIVIDEND

Some Time Will Elapse Before Final Dividend Is Paid Lowell Depositors

(Special to The Sun) WASHINGTON, May 24.—Since his return to Washington, Congressman John Jacob Rogers has conferred with several treasury officials in an effort to learn the prospects for a final dividend to depositors in the Traders National bank. It will be remembered that 90% has already been repaid the depositors, but Mr. Rogers has been struggling to secure the prompt payment of a substantial further dividend.

In an interview today with General Receiver Charles D. Hamner, who supervised Special Receiver H. G. Murray about a year ago, Mr. Rogers learned that a considerable further time must elapse before the final payment may be expected, and that this final payment will probably not exceed 1% and may not exceed 2%.

The long delay has arisen primarily from the fact that the largest block of unrepaid securities is in the Norton, Tannin and Attleboro Street Railway Co., of which the Traders bank owned bonds of a par value of some $50,000. This company has been in financial straits for years, and the bonds have little or no market value. The treasury department, however, has been determined to get the last possible cent for the depositors of the Traders bank. It found that the cities and towns accommodated by the railroad were anxious not to have the service abandoned. Under existing Massachusetts laws, the cities and towns could not purchase or operate the railroad. A law is accordingly now being put through the Massachusetts Legislature to make such purchase and operation possible. The law has already passed the senate and is expected to receive the signature of the governor soon. Within a short time after the enactment, Receiver Hamner expects to sell to the interested cities and towns the bank's ownership in the securities of the railroad.

The only other stumbling block to a final settlement arises from the bank's ownership of securities of a nominal value of $27,000 in a fruit land company in the state of Washington. This company has also long been in financial difficulty. Mr. Hamner hopes before very long to realize upon at least a portion of the value represented by these securities.

Mr. Hamner informs Mr. Rogers that it requires over $25,000 to pay a 1% dividend to the depositors in the Lowell bank. He now has on hand about $30,000. If he should realize 50% on the par value of the two blocks of securities mentioned, the total assets, without any allowance for expenses, would permit a final dividend of only about 2 1/2%. Mr. Rogers believes that by autumn the winding up of the affairs of the bank will be complete.

FIGHT FOR WAR BEER

N. Y. Brewers Obtain Injunction To Prevent Interference With Manufacture

NEW YORK, May 24.—Uninterrupted production of "war beer" until the courts have passed on the claim of the United States Brewers' association that the beverage, containing 2 1/2 per cent alcohol, is non-intoxicating, was assured yesterday when Federal Judge Mayer granted an injunction restraining government interference with its manufacture.

The court declared that his decision had been influenced by President Wilson's message to congress recommending repeal of the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it relates to beer and wine, and by Federal Judge A. N. Hand's ruling last week that the law placed a ban on the manufacture only of liquors that were, in fact, intoxicating.

Although United States Dist. Atty. Caffey, representing the government, opposed granting of an injunction, Judge Mayer said he believed such action would contribute to a fair settlement of the questions raised by the brewers under the emergency prohibition act.

Court to Review Decision The injunction, a temporary one, would be effective, the court said, pending review of his decision by the circuit court of appeals; or, if the government should decide to let it stand until the brewers' suit permanently to enjoin prosecutions for manufacture of the 2 1/2 per cent brew could be tried in the district court.

Judge Mayer announced that he would sign the temporary injunction Monday and suggested that the federal attorney and Edwin Root and William D. Guthrie, counsel for the brewers, confer with the senior judge of the court of appeals, to arrange an early review of the order. District Attorney Caffey pointed out that if possible a decision on appeal should be obtained before July 1, when prohibition of the sale of intoxicants becomes effective, unless congress follows the suggestion of the president for repeal or amendment of the law.

The injunction granted was in the suit of the Jacob Ruppert Brewing company against District Attorney Caffey and acting collector of internal revenue McElligott.

This is one of a series of cases raising identical questions and intended to test the emergency prohibition act in the New York district, thus setting a precedent for brewery operation throughout the country.

Say Brewers Face Rule Attorneys for the brewers declared they sought the temporary restraining order to prevent suspension and the consequent ruin of their clients' business while proof was being taken on their contention that "war beer" was not intoxicating. The federal attorney urged that there was no ground for enjoining the administration of criminal justice on mere allegations of threats to enforce the law.

Judge Mayer declared he wished to remove the case from "the technique of law," believing that the interests of the United States as well as the vast property interests involved would best be served by thorough consideration of the case in a single trial. He did not think anything would be gained by prosecutions here and there, turning possible proceedings along that line "a legal fiction." He ruled that an injunction could properly be issued on the implied threat of the government prosecuting authorities to enforce the law.

The court asserted that he must accept as the law in the case Judge Hand's decision that the wartime prohibition act, both as to manufacture after May 1 and sale after July 1, applied only to beer, wine and kindred products that were intoxicating. He added that when the president, having restricted production of beverages during the war crisis, announced publicly that the national interest no longer required a ban on beer and wine, "a court of equity must necessarily accept the pronouncement as coming from a well informed source."

Scientists' Views Presented In their argument for the temporary injunction of the brewers' counsel called the court's attention to a volume of affidavits prepared for the anticipated trial of the suits seeking a permanent injunction, these documents asserting that 2 1/2 per cent beer is a non-intoxicant.

Statements to this effect were sworn to by Dr. Willis J. Gies, professor of biological chemistry at Columbia university; Dr. Robert A. Hare, professor of therapeutics at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia; Dr. Stephen P. Jewett, chief psychiatrist of the alcoholic wards at Bellevue hospital; Prof. John Marshall of the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Charles A. Rosewater of Newark, authority on alcoholism and inebriety and many brewery officials, employees of labor and labor union officials.

George Bach, consul general of Denmark in the United States, testified that since the introduction of 2 1/2 per cent beer into his country, intoxication has been reduced to a minimum.

METHODS OF REDUCING

NAVY AND MARINES

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Methods of reducing the navy and the marine corps to a peace basis have been discussed by Secretary Daniels and his bureau chiefs. Thousand of officers and enlisted men still must be released before normal strength is reached, but it is believed that at the present rate of demobilization the numerical strength of the navy will be well below the 250,000 mark set by the secretary at the end of the fiscal year, June 1.

Based on a total strength of 250,000 men, naval officials are confronted with the necessity for reducing the officer personnel from more than 20,000 now on duty to less than 10,000 by July 1. During the war practically all of the regular officers were temporarily promoted. Getting the navy back to a peace basis means that the majority of these officers must be returned to their former rank.

While most line officers favor a permanent peace strength much in excess of the authorized 175,000 men, Secretary Daniels is reported to have insisted that the reduction be carried out as planned. After he returned from Europe he said that all reserve force members who desired release would be returned to civil life by August.

Major General George Barnett, commander of the marine corps, said today that the marines would have little difficulty in reducing to the normal strength of 26,300 officers and men by July 1.

Major General Hamilton presided. The speakers included Sir Thomas Myles, a well-known surgeon, and officers and non-commissioned officers who served in the war.

HORLICK'S THE ORIGINAL MALTED MILK Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, announced in the house today that committee hearings would be held soon with the view of a complete revision of the tariff. Preceding these hearings, he said, the committee beginning next week would consider the repeal of the various consumption taxes.

He introduced a resolution to repeal the semi-luxury taxes and to impose a levy on costly wearing apparel and many other articles. Republican members of the committee, he said, had unanimously approved the measure.

COMPLETE REVISION OF THE TARIFF PLANNED

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The peace treaty with its League of Nations covenant was debated for three hours in the senate yesterday and at adjournment the resolution which furnished the vehicle for the discussion went over as unfinished business to come up again when the senate reconvenes Monday.

The resolution merely calls on the state department to furnish the senate with the complete text of the treaty, but as the debate progresses discussion shifted to the merits of the league and treaty themselves. A dozen senators, including the leaders on both sides, were drawn into the discussion and sharp exchanges presaged the bitterness of the fight that is to come when the treaty actually comes up for ratification.

Senator Johnson of California, republican, author of the resolution, started the debate yesterday with a short speech charging that the treaty supporters had "something to conceal." This assertion drew an indignant reply from Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democrat of the foreign relations committee, who declared the president was following well-settled precedents in keeping the treaty text in confidence and that for the senate to request him to do otherwise would be a "gross breach of international proprieties."

A charge that republicans were attempting to make the treaty a partisan question was made by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democrat, who cited as evidence the telegram sent by Mr. Lodge some weeks ago to republican senators asking them not to discuss the revised League of Nations covenant pending a party conference. The republican telegram had no such purpose and that "not a word" of discussion of the treaty had passed in any of the conferences of republican senators.

In the course of the debate a bitter attack on the league covenant and on President Wilson's course in the peace conference was made by Senator Sherman of Illinois, republican, who earlier in the day had presented a resolution declaring it the sense of the senate that the treaty and the covenant should be considered separately when they come up for ratification.

At Mr. Sherman's request, his resolution went over and will be called up for debate probably next week. How long the discussion started by Senator Johnson's resolution is to continue could not be predicted by either side last night. During the day Senator Robinson gave notice that he expected to address the senate at greater length on Monday in support of the treaty, and Senator Reed of Missouri, democrat, who is understood to oppose it, also announced that he would speak on the subject at Monday's session. Many other senators are known to be preparing addresses.

URGE RECONSIDERATION OF TERMS OF PEACE

LONDON, May 24.—An appeal issued by a number of eminent professors and others, including the bishop of Oxford, Arthur Henderson, leader of the labor party in the house of commons; H. G. Wells, John Masfield, Lady Gilbert, George G. A. Murray, and Jerome K. Jerome, authors, has been published here, urging the reconsideration of the terms of peace on the ground that they belie the spirit of the 14 points of President Wilson. The appeal declares that the terms constitute a breach of faith with a beaten enemy and reduce Germany to the position of a subject nation. It concludes with a statement that on such a basis "it is impossible to establish any true League of Nations."

VOTE ON PROHIBITION AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE

DALLAS, Tex., May 24.—Amendments to the state constitution giving suffrage to women and prohibiting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors were voted upon in Texas today. Advocates and opponents of both causes have conducted vigorous campaigns, and a heavy vote was predicted.

The state is dry under the zone law, which prohibits sale of liquor within 10 miles of a military reservation. The state court of criminal appeals recently declared unconstitutional the state-wide prohibition law passed by the legislature last year.

JIM HILL WAS RIGHT

The late James Hill, empire builder, probably had the right idea when he spoke thus to a group of farmers holding a convention at one of the towns his railroad entered in the north-west.

"Remember that the farm wife is one-half the family, and the bigger half. A helpful, thrifty wife who conserves her husband's capital, health, earning ability and pocketbook, will make him succeed."

In this respect it also goes for the majority of Lowell wives. Necessity and natural inclination force them to be the ideal wife as outlined by Mr. Hill.

Mr. Merchant, this is the class of buyers your ad is addressed to when it is seen in this paper and this is the class of buyers your ad reaches. If you reach the wives and mothers of the city, you're reaching 50 per cent of the potential buying power of the city. The busy housewife has just one time in the day to read a paper. That is in the evening. If you want to reach the community pocketbook of Lowell, see that your ad is in the paper that goes to the homes and reaches the women at the only time of the day when they get a chance to read. SOCIALIST THEORIES

If the socialists want their party to get a foothold here, they will have to avoid all connection with the elements that advocate violence. The socialists of this country, previous to the war, were not known to be in favor of violence in any form. For that reason they were allowed to spout on the street corners and in other public places, a privilege which, in the new order of things, will be denied them. Care must be taken hereafter that the itinerant agitators must have a permit before they can get up in any public place to harangue the multitude. The same rule must be applied to preachers for the reason that we find so-called ministers of the gospel in certain cases preaching revolution and making religion a mere cloak to cover their real motives and the sinister character of their appeals.

No longer can men be allowed to come out along our public streets to incite the laboring classes against those who, having saved a little money, invest it in manufacturing industries. Suppose a mill operative, by his hard labor, saves $100 or $500 and invests it in cotton mill shares. He will then become a stockholder in the corporation for which he may be employed and may have a voice in its management. What will be then think of the socialist who tells the people that the cotton mills should be confiscated and their monetary value divided among the people?

If every man who has saved money would hoard it, then there would be no factories in which to work except established by the government. Banks are necessary to the transaction of business and factories to afford employment to the people; and the man who invests his money in an industry that affords employment to the masses is a public benefactor, whereas he would show his selfishness if he kept his money in a bank where it would be of little use to the community. Yet the socialists tell us that the property of the capitalists should be taken from them to be distributed among those whose laziness, idleness or lack of business tact, explains their present condition. This dangerous doctrine of socialism sanctions plunder. Any operative who has accumulated a thousand dollars or over can become a part-owner in a cotton mill and a sharer in its profits when there are any.

The stockholders in some of these concerns have lost their money. It is a fact that when the capitalist invests his money in an industry, he usually assumes more or less risk of losing it.

Many of the street railway systems of this country are in bankruptcy, which means that the stockholders are threatened with losing the greater part of the money they have invested in these corporations. So it was with many of the railroads before they were taken over by the government. When a man invests his money in these public utilities, he is taking a gambling chance on losing all, yet he is criticized by the socialists although he shows courage in putting his money where it will help the people. Those who have money try to make it work so as to earn more money. In doing so they help business. Is that any reason why their property should be seized and divided up among loafers, drunkards and other spendthrifts?

THE RIVER PROJECT

It is very disappointing to the people of Lowell to learn that an adverse report upon the Merrimack river project comes from Washington at a time when those who have been behind the movement for several years, supposed there would be no further help in the plans to make the river navigable.

It would seem that there is some hidden hand working against this movement and responsible for the delay. The head of the engineers at Washington claims that the expense of the undertaking would be out of proportion to the commercial benefits to be derived therefrom.

We do not see that the situation is changed in any degree except that the cost of labor and material is somewhat higher than when the favorable report was made by the engineers some few years ago. At that time the cost was set at $7,000,000 and somebody, apparently without authority, has made the claim that the improvements would cost $11,000,000. There seems to be so much opposition to this proposition that the people may as well realize now as later on, that they will have to fight the influence of certain corporations in this matter, and it remains to be seen whether the people or the corporations can exercise the greater influence with the powers at Washington.

The advocates of making the Merrimack navigable have proved their case over and over again and it looks now as if they would have to renew the battle once more and go through the same old series of appeals and trips to Washington, just as if the proposition had not been thoroughly investigated and cleared up effectually in point of utility, feasibility and commercial expediency. If there is any fighting spirit left in the boards of trade of the Merrimack valley, it should be brought to bear against an opposition so insidious, so treacherous and so detrimental to the interests of the towns and cities affected, nay, to the entire state.

REPUBLICAN TACTICS

Judging from the manner in which the republican party has started fireworks at Washington, it appears that the leaders are to devote more time to politics than to business. Already they have planned an investigation of practically every department having to do with the management of the war, charging that there has been great lack of efficiency and a waste of public funds. This is but a resumption of the political fishing parties that were inaugurated at various times by the military committee of the senate, during the sessions of the last congress.

The republicans are depending upon popular discontent as a result of the heavy taxes and unsatisfactory industrial conditions, to bring them the support necessary to discredit the democratic administration and win a victory next year. The motives of the party in conducting the proposed investigations are purely political. The sole aim is to blacken and discredit the administration. While these political movements are in progress, the business before congress will necessarily be held up and again the public will have an illustration of the fact that the republican party is more strongly bent on securing a victory next year than on bringing prosperity this year.

HAWKER'S WIDOW

The British government is criticized for its failure to co-operate with the aviators planning to fly across the ocean and thus bring glory to their country and government. There was no attempt whatever to offer any aid to Hawker and Rayham in their projected flights from Newfoundland to Ireland. Hawker had the courage to undertake the transatlantic flight under circumstances that made its success very dubious and actually resulted in the death of himself and his companion. It would seem that the London Daily Mail could do a very gracious thing if it awarded all or even half of the $50,000 set up as a prize for the first ocean flight, to the dependents of Hawker and his navigator, Grieve. No more daring act than that of Hawker can be imagined and his chief motive was to win the glory of being the first to make the perilous flight.

FOOD PRICES

Congressman John F. Fitzgerald is sure to make himself heard whenever he goes. He also knows how to strike a popular chord. He criticizes the present condition of the food situation and in so doing, he voices the sentiments of the public at large. The price of food is too high and the congressman charges that food profiteers who are hoarding are partly responsible for this state of affairs. If that is the case, and there appears to be some ground for the charge, it should receive the prompt attention of the government.

THE INCREASE

One week from next Monday, the 15 per cent increase in wages for the operatives of the textile factories, will take effect. To most operatives, that will mean from $1.75 to $2 per week increase. That will help very considerably in meeting the domestic bills. It will certainly bring about a more friendly feeling between the operatives and their employers, and probably a more personal interest in the welfare of the factory on the part of every operative.

A queer situation has arisen in New York city. Actors—the good, bad and indifferent—insist on forming themselves into a labor union and basing the remuneration for weekly employment on a scale of eight performances weekly. The theatrical managers object to this, saying that the stage and show business in general is more of a gamble than anything else they know of, and the actors ought not to standardize themselves into a labor union. This does not ave the actors in the least and they are firmly resolved to go ahead and unionize, and get affiliation with the American Federation of Labor if possible. The situation has its humorous aspect too. Ancient manuscripts of Shakespeare order certain parts to be taken by "walking gentlemen." In time to come, at presentations of even our best plays, the "walking gentleman" may be the union's walking delegate butting in on a scene and demanding a star's working card.

A Gotham baseball fan has written to the New York Sun, complaining that the commercial activities of all sorts of peanut and tonic vendors at the Polo grounds, inconvenience and annoy men who have come prepared to spend a pleasant afternoon watching this exciting and wholesome sport. We have, in years past, suffered the same annoyance in the minor leagues. The local managements have a duty in this respect which they ought not to lose sight of. There are things more important than tonic and peanuts at a first class ball game.

New York brokers say that between four and five thousand fake oil companies are formed every year to be exploited all through the east, including New England, for the purpose of wringing the hard earned dollars from the ho polloi in exchange for worthless stock. So if you are tempted to turn in your Liberty bond for oil stock, bear in mind that you have at least 4000 chances to get bunked.

The republicans in congress seem inclined to balk upon President Wilson's proposition for the repeal of the war time prohibition act. They want to throw the responsibility on the president himself just as if he could repeal an act of congress or set it aside by an official mandate.

Possibilities of creating new fortunes by investments in developing the natural resources of Spain are said to be luring American investors. Perhaps they have in mind the acquisition of some of those fabled "Castles in Spain."

Let us hope our local hosiery factories will never have to face Chinese competition. A consular report states that a Chinese woman, by the use of a particular kind of machine, can knit 18 dozen pairs of socks per day and is satisfied with a daily wage of 30 cents.

Helpless In Bed With Rheumatism Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MR. ALEXANDER MUNRO

R.R. No. 1, Lorne, Ont.
"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. During that time, I had treatment from a number of doctors, and tried nearly everything I saw advertised to cure Rheumatism, without receiving any benefit. Finally, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives' (or Fruit Liver Tablets). Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down."

I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

Well, had a nice day for it. Ball game, we mean.

The "western" is all the rage in the lunch car nowadays.

It's great to have a friend who has an auto and who doesn't pick out cold and rainy days to ask you to go riding.

It takes some people so long to do things that they think they are being worked to death when as a matter of fact they're not half working.

Germany, it appears, has a copper-riveted clinch on last place in the League of Nations, with absolutely no chance, this season or any other, of winning the pennant.

The Chicago safe blower who confessed to robbing 40 places, insists the high cost of living is making everybody work extra hard, even in the safe blowing business. "Why, I remember when one safe a month would do. Now a fellow would starve on that," he added.

"Most members of congress get to their offices early," writes a Washington correspondent. "From 10 o'clock on the office buildings are buzzing with senators and representatives at work." And it was these 10 o'clock scholars who insisted on the rest of the country saving daylight by getting to work at 7 o'clock!

smear 'em up in a coating of gold tint, and palm 'em off as 14k. getfish. Sardine value for goldfish prices. All shines merrily the first thousand laps around the bowl, then the "goldfish's" complexion begins to go foggy. In a week's time the gold tint wears off 'em like the eraser on a kid's pencil during the June exams. Then the chilly truth is brought home to the owner that he has only a bowl of tarnished perch. So it goes to show. "All is not gold that glitters." Not even goldfish!

Raw Beef Bootlegging

Dr. A. A. Brill of New York, says one may enter a state almost identical to drunkenness by eating the following:

Four pieces of toast with strawberry jelly.
Two crullers.
One boiled egg.
One roast beef sandwich.
One pound of almonds.
Three sliced cucumbers.
Six bananas.
Two frankfurters with tea.
Three nut cakes.
One pound of chocolate candy.
The Doc. tells of a woman who ate all that in half an hour and exhibited signs of intoxication. He also says that one may "receive an intoxicating feeling" after partaking of three pounds of raw beef.

Pointing the Way

Automobilists who come through Lowell en route to seashore, mountains or merely "going through," do not have to spend many moments in asking the traffic cop which road leads to his or her intended destination. At almost all the intersections of streets from which the main arteries of auto traffic run the ever obliging A.L.A. has posted signs which inform the traveler to where and what the thoroughfare will lead him. The one spot in the city which makes the "almost" necessary in the above statement is at the intersection of Merrimack and Pawtucket streets, where indeed the autoist will have to stop and scratch his head unless he is one of those rare creatures, an autoist who carries with him a complete map of the highways and byways of the state. Wherefore and furthermore, it would seem that in order to make the city's auto sign record 100 per cent. perfect, a guide board should be placed at this point. For it is certain that whoever does will earn the undying gratitude of the motoring fraternity who pass through the City of Spindles.

"The Middle-Man"

"Reduce! reduce my cost of living!" I cry to butcher, baker, grocer. They all politely answer "No, sir!" Their smiles are, without misgiving, and claim they're doing all they can. But can't cast out the middle-man.

The wicked middle-man is standing between consumer and producer. They prove to me (as I to you, sir). We're all of us engaged in handling our substance to this blight, this ban. This omnipresent middle-man.

Accusing all, from farm to basket. They all respond, "No, no, not I, sir! It is that other guilty guy, sir. To shelve my margin? Ouch! don't ask it!"

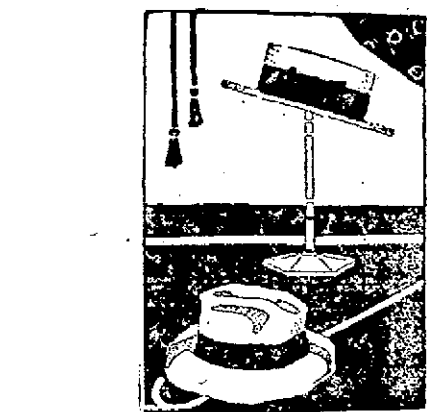

I look from Beersheba to Dan. But can't locate this middle-man.

Sometimes I'm forced to wonder. I cry to myself the man I've sought. Life's grinding mill-stones find me caught. Between the upper and the nether. Alas! alas! that solves the riddle; I am the man, who's in the middle! (Copyright, 1919, N.E.A.)

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I learn that one of the pet projects of Mayor Thompson this spring and one that he hopes can be put through, is connected with the public bathing place on the Merrimack river. He tells me that last summer it was not an infrequent thing to see as many as 2000 persons of all ages enjoying the river bathing at this place up on the boulevard. As an extension of this branch of city recreational life, Mr. Thompson believes it is distinctly worth while to build a municipal bath house. Architect Henry Bourke is interested in the project, too, and he has submitted a design to the mayor for an inexpensive bath house that would be both serviceable and pretty. It is the mayor's idea that this bathing place ought to have its usefulness extended so that there can be a sort of a playground up there, too, much after the example of Magazine beach at Cambridge. The park commission is understood to be in sympathy with the plan and if the city fathers authorize the necessary appropriation next week this improvement can be made a reality.

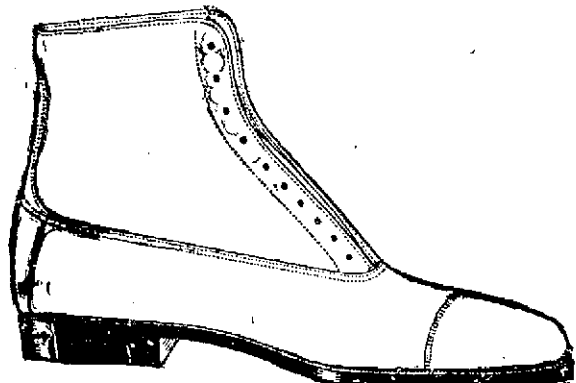

In an enjoyable chat I had with Lt. Howard C. Arnold of Providence who was here visiting his grandfather, Commodore William A. Arnold of 481 Beacon street, recently, asked him how the Belgians compare with the French people for progressiveness. Lt. Arnold served 18 months with the 26th

Division overseas. He said that it was generally understood among the American soldiers that the Belgians had better industrial equipment and better tools of all kinds than the people in northern France.

I asked the lieutenant if he had ever had opportunity to talk with boche prisoners enough to gain an idea of what their point of view towards the war was. He said he had. He said that it was drilled into the boche soldier that he need not think for himself and he in fact, must not. The boche soldier was told that if he were captured by the Americans, he would be tortured to a degree beyond which even his own savage mind could not imagine. Occasionally he was told that the Americans had come to capture and hold the German fatherland and it was up to him to help stop the rush. In the case of officers, Lt. Arnold says their mentality was of course somewhat better, but they too, worked under the stress of harsh orders from higher authority. Until late in the game they expected to be conquerors of vast lands and provinces to the south and east of Germany and that after these countries were made vassal nations, each officer would be given a fine estate to which he might retire and live in luxury and ease all the rest of his life. And so with the lure of this and like hirelings tugging for a mercenary motive entirely, these Hun officers kept on until the tide turned against them at Chateau Thierry July 18, 1918.

Mr. John Murphy and Miss Mary Howard were married Wednesday at the Sacred Heart church by the pastor, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I. The bride wore navy blue with picture hat and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Julia Riley, who was attired in navy blue with picture hat to match and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Bernard Gallagher. SUTHERLAND TO FIGHT SHRUNK

Essex County Solons Will Protest—Down River City May Send Delegation

(Special to The Sun)

LAWRENCE, May 24.—Whatever may be the disposition on the part of other Merrimack valley cities, Leitchfield or otherwise, in regard to taking prompt action following up on the adverse report on deepening the Merrimack river for shipping purposes, Andrew S. Sutherland of this city, merchant and accredited father of the Merrimack river navigation project, has announced that he believes Col. Francis Shrunk of the United States engineers overstepped his authority and out of the province of his jurisdiction when he, in addition to submitting his technical report went far enough to advise the government not to spend its money as a co-partner of the enterprise.

Mr. Sutherland announced he has camped on Col. Shrunk's trail and that he has already requested Congressmen Chelan, Rogers and Larkin to take quick and decisive official steps that will right the injustice done the Merrimack valley by the Shrunk report and to offset the influence of it.

Mr. Sutherland's present activity is based on the fact, as he calls attention to it, that Col. Shrunk was not asked to report on the advisability of the project but on the contrary was asked to submit figures showing the approximate cost to have the work done in the immediate future, so as to make comparison with the figures for this same work which had been submitted in 1912.

As against the statement in the Shrunk report that the potential commerce possibilities of the Merrimack river do not in his opinion seem to warrant the expenditure of the large appropriation necessary for the work, Mr. Sutherland points out that the commerce of the Merrimack valley at the present time amounts to $200,000 annually. Today Mr. Sutherland said: "If it is necessary a large delegation representing Lawrence business men can go to Washington and back up the strong protest against this report being accepted, which will be made."

SEND PROTEST TO TAFT

G. A. R. Say His Proposed Address on League "Unpatriotic and Disrespectful"

WICHITA, Kas., May 24.—William H. Taft's proposed Memorial Day address at Kansas City on the League of Nations would be "unpatriotic and disrespectful" in the view of the state G. A. R., which has adopted a protest.

The resolution says: "We, the G. A. R. veterans of the state of Kansas, respectfully but earnestly protest against such a violation of the spirit and purpose of our Memorial Day and call upon our commander-in-chief to present this protest to ex-President Taft and request him to refuse to make a party to this unpatriotic and disrespectful purpose."

National Commander-in-Chief C. E. Adams made a speech at the state encampment, in which he said that neither Kansas City nor any other part of the United States could "desecrate the day."

"I do not care whether it be an ex-president or a living president," he said. "The sanctity of Memorial Day among the Grand Army of the Republic and the patriotic people of America, must be respected."

Had Chronic Stomach Trouble Fifty Years

Mr. Pleitz Finally Found How To End It—He's 88 Years Old

"I had been afflicted for 50 years with chronic stomach trouble and dyspepsia, and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief. For years I have had to go to the water closet as often as eight or twelve times during the night, on account of my bowels. I had to be very careful what I ate and could not eat fruit at all.

"I have used but four bottles of Milks Emulsion and it has benefited me more than all the other medicines I have taken. I can go to bed now and sleep the whole night, and can eat fruit without hurting me."—Wm. M. Pleitz, 513 South 13th St., Springfield, Ill.

When Mr. Pleitz wrote this letter he was eighty-eight years old, and his age is hard to believe at that age. Don't suffer for 50 years as he did! Don't suffer another week! Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down, nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard—Adv.

The burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal service was read at the grave by Rev. Fr. Heffernan. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Donnell & Sons.

MURPHY—The funeral of the late Patrick J. Murphy took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his home, 21 Middlesex Park, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from Lebanon and Manchester, N. H., and Lawrence, Mass. The cortege proceeded to St. Margaret's church where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. Charles Gillingham. The choir under the direction of Mr. Frank McCarthy sang the solo being sustained by Miss Katherine Hennessy, and Mr. McCarthy. Miss Theresa Hennessy presided at the organ. COL. TILSON MILITARY EXPERT TELLS
WHAT HE SAW IN FRANCEInteresting Statement to Sun Correspondent —Says Bad Feeling Grows Between Our Boys and Those of Allied Nations

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—"Our soldiers ought to be brought home as soon as possible for the sake of preserving cordial relations between them and the allied forces if for no other reason," said Congressman John Q. Tilson of the third Connecticut district, who has just returned from an official visit to France with the military affairs committee of the house.

"While war was going on and the American soldiers and allies were fighting side by side it was all right, but now it is like two families with different tastes and different aims in life trying to live together. Mixing up the soldiers from different countries was all right in time of war, when there was a common danger to be shared, but to bind them together in times of peace is a bad thing. It is true there is no formal break, but there is a lot of ill feeling in evidence. They simply don't pull together and our boys should be brought home without delay. The boys in France are not doing active duty. They are simply waiting, and the longer they are forced to wait, the more strained will the relations become. We went into the war and sent over our army for a purpose that has been accomplished. Now we ought to bring the boys back and end the whole thing," said Col. Tilson with great emphasis.

While in Europe Col. Tilson went, as far as possible, over the course followed by the 26th Division. He went over the ground at Belleau and Terey, where the 26th took up the work left by the shattered marines the day after the terrible battle at Belleau Woods when the 26th pressed forward and captured the village of Belleau a few miles beyond. "Everything in Belleau and in the forest had been hit. The wood is completely shot to pieces. Every tree is riddled with bullets, even the twigs are shot off. It's a miracle anyone came out alive," said the colonel. Tilson then went to see the battlefields where the 26th jumped off at the end of the wood at a little place called Souresches in the Chateau Thierry region. He also went to the St. Mihiel salient at Les Eparges and saw where the 26th jumped off and made a juncture with the other divisions that came down from the south. In fact it is very evident that all through his visit to France it was the 26th Division and the old 2nd Connecticut regiment that held the warmest spot in Tilson's heart.

Moreover Tilson was able to look on

"Some men's passion is gold, some men's passion is art, some men's passion is fame, but my passion is for men." That was the creed of General William Ballington Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, and his daughter, Evangeline Booth, commander of the army in the United States today, has added her own new slogan, "A Man May Be Down But He's Never Out."

DOLLARS ARE WANTED!

Salvation Army Must Enlist
Them in War For Suffering HumanityBY EVANGELINE BOOTH
Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States

The Salvation Army, for the first time in its history, goes before the American people to seek by means of an organized campaign, the money necessary for the support of its activities in America.

As the active head of the Salvation Army in the United States, I feel it is incumbent upon me to explain briefly why the Salvation Army needs $12,000,000 to carry on its work in this land.

I can give the answer to the question as to why we need the money in one word—war. I am not speaking entirely of the world war when I say it. I mean rather the Salvation Army's own war; the war it has been carrying on for more than fifty years—the war of the slums. We need $12,000,000 in order that we may continue to fight as we have been fighting for suffering humanity; to lift up the woman who has fallen; to encourage the man who is faltering; to carry milk to starving babies; to befriend the friendless; to shelter the homeless—to perform the myriad acts of service to which all of us who wear the uniform of the Salvation Army have dedicated our lives.

That is the war we are fighting, and our weapons are the dollars of those who, while not of the Salvation Army in actually, still are of the Salvation Army in spirit and purpose. We ask for our argument freely without apologies, realizing that the public knows now as never before what the Salvation Army is, what its ideals are, and what its record of achievement. We have emerged from the fires of the greatest struggle the world has ever known—I was going to say triumphantly, only triumph in the ordinary accepted meaning of the word has no place in the vocabulary of the Salvation Army. The only triumphs we know are those over the forces that cause mankind to suffer. Praise and adulation we do not ask; nor have we ever sought it. We are glad of the soldier's praise, not for his own sake but because it indicates that our service to them was helpful.

Also, the good-hearted praise of the soldiers has directed attention to the work we have been doing at home, chalked up at the close of the meeting.

The largest single team report was turned in by the fire department ladies, captained by Chief Saunders, who reported $841. Team 11, with $839 and Team 21, with $832, were close behind.

The Elks received a great hand when their chairman, Samuel Scott, announced a round $2000 as his report for the four teams of "the best people on earth" who have been working tooth and nail for the success of the drive. This was divided up equally among the four teams, each being credited with $500.

Chairman Scott announced that all school children of the city who have done their bit earnestly in the campaign for the angel lassies will receive a prize from the organization at the close of the drive, and the school showing the best results will be presented an appropriate trophy. And then Mr. Scott and his untiring campaigners left the hall to make their nightly round of the theatres of the city.

Mayor Thompson spoke briefly and urged the workers to renew their efforts and send the drive over the top to a glorious finish. He knew they could do it, if each and every member of the teams put his or her shoulder to the wheel, the mayor said, and it was the least the city could do to show its appreciation of the work this wonderful organization has accomplished both "over there" and "over here."

"We have our work cut out for us," said the mayor. "It is going to take hard work to send the drive over the top. We have been taking it too easy, and the people seem to have an impression that as regards raising the quota there is nothing to it. This is a wrong idea, and we must put forth every effort between now and the close of the campaign to show what the city of Lowell thinks of the Salvation Army and the doughnut girl."

The team reports, which included $265 turned in by Chairman A. D. Milliken of the special gifts committee, are as follows:

nut. The parade will form at Cabot and Merrimack street at 7:40 o'clock, and every doughboy, blue jacket and devil dog is asked by Mayor Thompson to be on hand and help send the drive over the top by marching in the column.

At 8 o'clock the marchers will start ahead, proceed down Merrimack to the square, turn up Central street, continuing to Middlesex and wind up at the South common where they will disband. The parade will be headed by the mayor and a band, and every town worker and citizen who wishes the angel lassies well is requested by his honor to get in line.

Another feature of the evening will be an auction sale at the Strand theatre. Any articles or the people of Lowell will be auctioned off in the highest bidder from the state of the playhouse during the evening's performance, the proceeds going to help swell the coffers of the Salvation lassies. The mayor has volunteered to act as auctioneer following the parade, and promises to do his darndest to get rid of anything from a diver to a ham shoulder.

Last night's meeting at Memorial hall showed unmistakably that if the Spangle City's quota of $23,000 is to be reached when the drive closes Monday evening it will take the hardest kind of work. The reports read at the meeting indicated that up to that time only $11,193 had been turned in, which is less than half the amount the citizens of Lowell have been asked to contribute. In fact, the report for last evening was a little less than on Wednesday, a trade over $6887 being turned in by the fire department ladies, captained by Chief Saunders, who reported $841. Team 11, with $839 and Team 21, with $832, were close behind.

The Elks received a great hand when their chairman, Samuel Scott, announced a round $2000 as his report for the four teams of "the best people on earth" who have been working tooth and nail for the success of the drive. This was divided up equally among the four teams, each being credited with $500.

Chairman Scott announced that all school children of the city who have done their bit earnestly in the campaign for the angel lassies will receive a prize from the organization at the close of the drive, and the school showing the best results will be presented an appropriate trophy. And then Mr. Scott and his untiring campaigners left the hall to make their nightly round of the theatres of the city.

Mayor Thompson spoke briefly and urged the workers to renew their efforts and send the drive over the top to a glorious finish. He knew they could do it, if each and every member of the teams put his or her shoulder to the wheel, the mayor said, and it was the least the city could do to show its appreciation of the work this wonderful organization has accomplished both "over there" and "over here."

"We have our work cut out for us," said the mayor. "It is going to take hard work to send the drive over the top. We have been taking it too easy, and the people seem to have an impression that as regards raising the quota there is nothing to it. This is a wrong idea, and we must put forth every effort between now and the close of the campaign to show what the city of Lowell thinks of the Salvation Army and the doughnut girl."

The team reports, which included $265 turned in by Chairman A. D. Milliken of the special gifts committee, are as follows:

VIEWING TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT
THROUGH COMMERCIAL EYESSpillane Says Airships Will Make All World
Neighbors—Vast Undeveloped Regions of Earth Brought Near CivilizationBY RICHARD SPILLANE
Staff Writer on Economic, Business and Financial Topics

Wonder crowds on wonder in this age, the most vivid, tragic and adventurous of all time. Now a new marvel unfolds in the conquest of the Atlantic by a ship of the air, synchronizing with the conquest of the same sea by steam exactly one hundred years ago when the Savannah made the epoch making journey.

Today the airship's flight thrills. A little later it will not. An oft-told story does not carry its first rich charm. Within a year or two to fly the Atlantic will not be the globe appalling act it is today.

Soon, very soon the interest will be commercial, almost wholly. Will the airship develop into a big industry? Will it play a large part in transportation? What may we expect in reason and how soon? Will America lead in this field or is she destined to be outstripped by one of the Europeans?

These are some of the questions likely to be asked. It is difficult to plot a course for or speak with assurance of an industry that is new. One thing certain, however, is that these best informed regarding the airship consider its field much narrower, than is imagined generally. Also, it is evident that what large development there is in the field will be due mostly to American enterprise. This is odd in view of the fact that the British, French and Germans have striven to the utmost for the last four years in airship production.

Immediately with the close of the war there practically was an abandonment of airship development in Europe. In England Lord Waverley advised all firms having any connection with airplanes making to get out of it as quietly as possible. His advice was followed despite the fact that many manufacturers thought aviation had large commercial possibilities. They could not afford to wait, however, so they turned their plants to other work. It is certain the airship will become a regular vehicle for passengers and high-class freight across the Atlantic. This may be within a year or two, but the passenger traffic will be limited by reason of the high rates and hazards. We are likely to have many tragedies to mark the way, just as there were in the early days of the railroad and the automobile with the kerosene lamp.

Anyone who has dreams of flying to and from business in the city and his home in the suburbs or, say, 25 or 30 miles out—traveling in the air as he does now, in auto—is in for disillusionment. The use of the airship for a short journey is too costly. Its realm is distance.

Flying will become just as safe as railroad travel some time. Today it is not so hazardous as supposed. As indicated by insurance rates and statistics as to flights it is safe enough. Assuredly it is fast enough, but the time it saves on anything but long journeys is offset by the many and long delays at the starting and landing points.

Where the airship is likely to play a really great part is in fields where now it is not considered commercial—Asia, Africa, South America, Australia. Today it is a journey of three to four weeks from New York to Rio, San Paulo and Buenos Aires or Montevideo. By airplane it would be only a few days and there is no such expanse of sea to cross as in spanning the Atlantic, for the entrance to the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea is dotted with islands.

In the vast stretches of South America, Africa, Asia, the aircraft have a clear field and infinitely greater scope than in crowded places like France, Great Britain, Germany and the eastern part of the United States. In the development of overseas possibilities it will do much, but far greater will be its part in drawing all the world closer together. That is its big function.

It is not in drawing the crowded nations closer—they are too close for comfort now in many cases—but in drawing the vast undeveloped regions of the earth so near as to make them real to all the world. Distance is nothing but time. If South America is made only four days from America or Asia, three or the Argentine three, they inevitably will come as much in communion with New York, London, St. Louis, San Francisco and Paris as New York and London are today. What this means in the field of trade, the development of industries now unthought of. The progress of mankind is something to fire the imagination.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Pearl Paquette, aged 6, who died at the Lowell General hospital last night as a result of injuries received when she was struck by his machine, Louis A. Olney of 118 Riverside street was arraigned in police court today. A plea of not guilty was entered and he was ordered to furnish bonds in the sum of $2000, pending the inquest finding.

Arthur J. Mandeville, a young man of this city, was charged with drunkenness and assault and battery upon his stepfather, Serafin Briere. A plea of not guilty was entered and a continuance was granted until Monday, bail being set at $200.

According to the story of Patrolman LeMay, who arrested the youth, Mandeville hid in his stepfather's entry yesterday afternoon and when the older man returned home gave him a thorough beating up, and also attempted to rob him.

Nicholas Pappas was found guilty of injuring the shrubbery at Fort Hill park and was assessed $5.

"I hadn't had a drink for three years until yesterday," pleaded John Quinn, who was present on a drunkenness charge. "You know, judge, the weather this week has been awful damp, and I could feel the rheumatism coming on, so I took a little nip of whisky—just a little nip, that's all."

The arresting officer's testimony was sufficient to convince the court that John must have taken too many "nips" for his own good, and he was ordered to ante up $7 as proof that in the future he will become a permanent passenger on the water wagon.
